GROVES AWARDED SKOKIE ROAD JOB ON $347,000 BID

Lake County Concern Is Awarded the Big Road
Building Job

S. J. Groves and Son, of Libertyville, have been awarded the contract for the grading and paving of the new Skokie Highway from a point north of Belvidere street road to the state line, according to information received from Springfield yesterday.

The contract was awarded to the Lake county concern on a bid of $347,000 according to word from the state capital.

Start Work Soon

The contract is one of the largest that has been granted by the state highway department during the current year. Work on the project will be started within the next month it is understood.

J. D. Lala, former Waukegan paving contractor, was an unsuccessful bidder for the contract.

Cost of building this highway which will eventually connect Chicago and Milwaukee with a four lane 100 foot highway, and which will be one of the finest and straightest stretches of interurban highway in the nation is being borne partially by the state and partially by the federal government.

Balked at Lake Forest

The highway which passes through the county at a point about one mile west of Waukegan has been completed from Chicago to the south limits of Lake Forest and from the North limits of Lake Forest to Belvidere road. Owners of several large estates in the western part of Lake Forest are opposing the passage of the highway through their property and a long court fight appears certain.

Hear Interesting Program At Methodist Church Home-Coming

Former Pastor, Oldest Members Talk; 100 Are Present at Dinner

One hundred members and former members of the First Methodist Church of Antioch heard an interesting program here Sunday afternoon at the annual Harvest-Home dinner and home-coming.

Although over 300 invitations had been sent to former members, not many were able to respond and only two former pastors out of the half dozen invited were in attendance—Rev. Philip T. Bohm of Des Plaines, and Rev. S. E. Pollock of Antioch. Other pastors advised that they had other pastors for the day that they could not leave.

The program at 2:30, which was in charge of County Superintendent W. C. Petty, included talks by Miss Ella Ames, financial secretary and one of the oldest active members of the church; former pastor, S. E. Pollock; Mrs. A. J. Felter, readings; Miss Lottie Jones who read a history of the church; J. C. James; Rev. L. V. Williams, oldest member; Rev. L. V. Sitter, pastor, and Rev. Bohm. Musical selections were by Hans Von Holst, organ selections, and solos by Mrs. H. B. Gasten and Miss Ruth Nelson.

Mrs. J. A. Van Duzer was received into the church at the baptismal service conducted by Rev. Sitter.

Former members and out of town visitors included: Mrs. Florence Riggs, Lafayette, Ind.; Leslie Harlow, Chicago; James Straghan and William Straghan, Wadsworth; Mrs. Bert Ray and Miss Addie French, Waukegan.

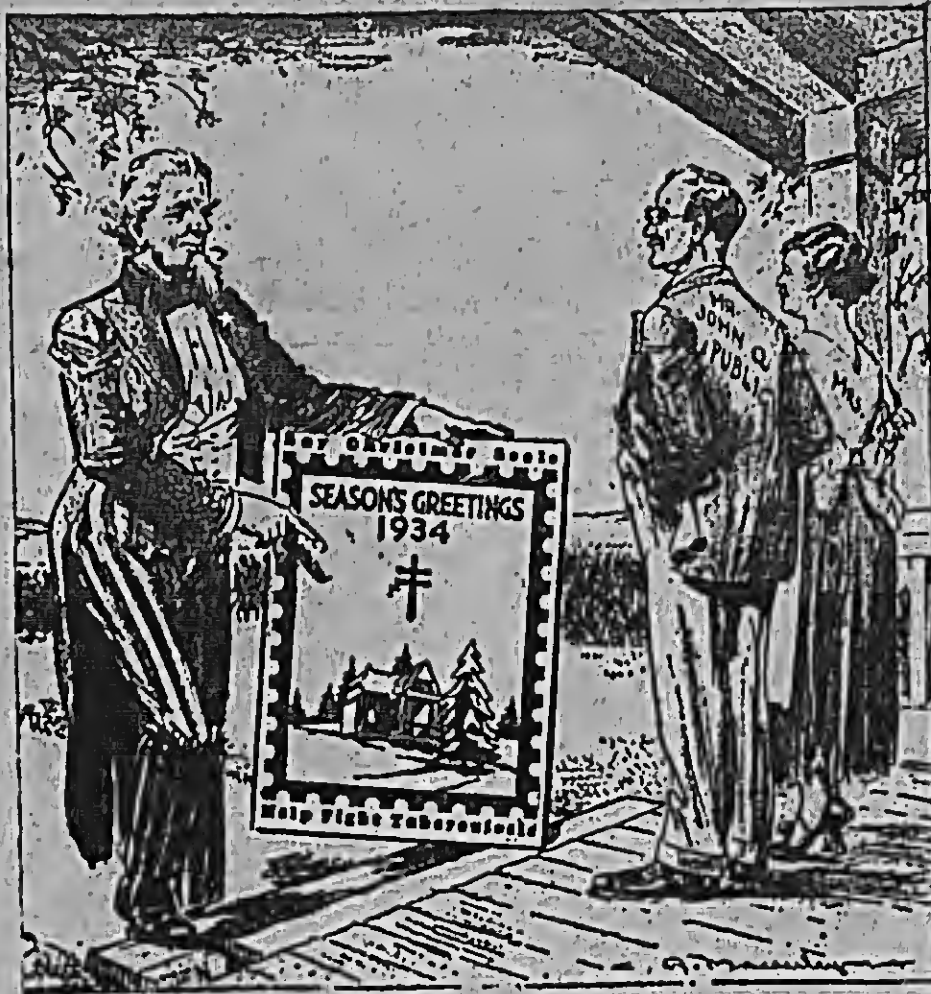

Antioch Firemen Attend County Meet

Lake county firemen heard talks on the evolution of fire prevention at the November meeting of the association held at Libertyville town hall Monday night. Lew Van Patten and Frank Huber were the representatives of the Antioch department.

The principal speaker of the evening was J. W. Just, of the Illinois Inspection Bureau of Chicago. The association which was organized three years ago lists members from every one of the 21 Lake county departments.

The association is sponsoring a dance to be given December 6 at the Waukegan Roller Rink.

This Is Our Job, Lets See It Through

STATE FACES CRISIS; NO FUNDS FOR RELIEF; NEED $36,000,000

Gov. Horner May "Extend Base" of State Sales
Tax

Springfield, Nov. 29.—With its sales tax law extended until such time as it may be repealed, the state administration now faces its most serious political and economic crisis. There is no money for December relief and none for 1935. The federal relief officials insist that Illinois provide at least $2,500,000 a month until 1936; an estimated $36,000,000 in round figures. The FERA will then allot about $4,000,000 to the state for the same period, making a total of $100,000,000.

The Illinois Emergency Relief Commission says it needs $13,125,697 for December. It is saving $1,645,699 out of the November allotment from the FERA and is likely to get $12,000,000 more from Washington. Governor Horner also wants the FERA to turn over about $13,000,000 for January. The regular session of the legislature is then expected to raise the $36,000,000 by taxation in some form.

Democratic National Committee man Nash and Mayor Kelly of Chicago are urging Gov. Horner to raise the sales tax to 3 per cent. This would bring in more than $60,000,000. Less than $30,000,000 is needed for state purposes even with the old property tax abolished.

Governor Horner has announced that he will not raise the sales tax, but is inclined to "extend its base." Those close to the governor say that under the Supreme Court decision declaring the sales, or occupational, tax, unconstitutional, the state can tax all occupations. The governor is said to have legal opinion favorable to a plan that would permit him to tax all payrolls, making the employer deduct 2 per cent from wages paid and turn the tax over to the state. This, it is said, would bring in an additional amount somewhere between $30,000,000 and $50,000,000 a year.

Other plans calling for taxes on bank checks, cigarettes, stock market and board of trade transfers, etc., have been considered and rejected as being inexpedient. The Democratic leadership is said to feel that there is less danger in taxing an unorganized citizenry.

Governor Horner, it is said, has about decided that to get any kind of legislation through, he will have to turn the administration of relief back to the various counties, instead of having it dominated by the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission with its payroll of more than 9,000 persons and its frequently exposed waste, extravagance and theft.

Politics is further complicating the situation. During the Democratic powwow at French Lick, Ind., after the election, the bosses announced that State's Attorney Courtney of Cook county was their choice to run against U. S. Senator J. H. Lewis in 1936. They did this to embarrass Courtney, now allied with the old Lewis-O'Donnell-Dunne-Harrison wing of the Illinois Democracy.

Governor Horner was told he could run for re-election. He is known to have his eye on the governorship and returned from the powwow in a happy frame of mind toward Nash and Kelly. When they summoned him to Chicago last week and demanded that he include the relief problem in the business of the

Operation Is Fatal to Mrs. Fred Stephenson

Former Antioch Woman to Be Buried Here
Friday

Funeral services for Mrs. Fred Stephenson will be held Friday from the Strang funeral chapel at 2:00 o'clock with Eastern Star services at the graves in Hillside cemetery. Rev. S. E. Pollock will have charge of the service.

Mrs. Stephenson, the former Leonella Taylor, died at Waukegan, Tuesday after having undergone an operation Monday. For many years the Stephensons were residents of Antioch where Mr. Stephenson was connected with the dairy business. They left here several years ago and for the past few years had been living in Waukegan.

She leaves her mother, Mrs. Della Taylor of Antioch, brothers, sisters, and many relatives and friends in this locality where she had lived since childhood.

City Briefs

Mrs. W. A. Roaring, Russell and Robert Rosing of Round Lake, Mrs. H. E. Lease and Mrs. Somers of Waukegan went to St. Paul Friday, returning Saturday. They attended the funeral of Mrs. Richard Gorman, a niece of Mr. Roaring.

Mrs. Conrad Buschman and Miss Linda Buschman will spend Thanksgiving at the home of the former's daughter, Mrs. Harry Boe, at Le-mont, Illinois.

Misses Eileen Osmond, Ruth Cremin, Lillian Vykstra and Hazel Hawkins who are attending Normal school at Dekalb, will spend their Thanksgiving vacation at home.

Mrs. Margaret Canode, mother of Mrs. L. V. Sitter, and Mr. and Mrs. Deles Andrew and two children, all of Oregon, Ill., will spend Thanksgiving here with the Sitter family.

Mrs. Ada Overton, Miss Pearl Lux, Chicago, and Mrs. Minnie Taylor and son, Bud, of Waukegan, will be guests of their mother, Mrs. Charles Lux, Sr., on Thanksgiving.

Mr. and Mrs. Oren Hostetter, Leslie Allen and Ruth Hostetter attended the funeral of Nancy Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Taylor of Evanston, last week.

fourth special session he balked. An all night conference failed to budge him.

The governor came back to Springfield smiling. He had, at last, won the whip-hand over Kelly and Nash. Kelly wanted to be re-elected in April. If relief in Chicago is crippled, even to a slight degree, Kelly will have no chance to win. The more relief the more Democratic votes, is the way Kelly and Nash regard the situation.

There is no way to get relief funds without the help of the governor. There are many things which he would like to have from his co-bosses before he lets them get up from over the barrel. He went to Chicago Friday morning to treat with them. Again they told him "fists and bloodshed" would follow any reduction in Cook county relief. Their threats to appeal to Washington provoked only smiles. It remains to be seen how matters will work out.

ANTIOCH BANK TAKES WAUKEGAN SCHOOL WARRANTS

First National Buys $15,000
in Writs; Other Banks Purchase Also

Waukegan school officials announced Monday that $65,000 in anticipation warrants had been taken up by Lake county banks. The First National of Antioch purchased an additional $15,000 in warrants. Negotiations are under way to dispose of the writs in banks in Highland Park and Lake Forest, school officials stated.

Teachers' salaries for November will be paid with 80 per cent in cash and the remaining 20 per cent in coupon books issued by food companies, according to Edward Holmberg, treasurer for the Waukegan grade school district.

Deprived of P. C. Tax

Waukegan city schools are deprived of $24,000 that would be coming to the school system, through non-payment of the Public Service Co. and Waukegan Generating Co. taxes. The utility company can not pay its bill because the matter is tied up in court. William Brecheisen, president of the Waukegan Taxpayers' association, petitioned for a writ of mandamus to force the board of review of last year to convene and reassess the utility company holdings in Waukegan township. The courts have ruled with Brecheisen and this leaves the Public Service company and the Waukegan Generating company without an assessment for the last year. Consequently, there is no basis on which to pay a tax and they will not be one until a valuation is set definitely.

Under the assessment the utility company's tax bill was $85,000. Non-payment deprives the Waukegan city schools of $24,000; the Waukegan Township high school, $20,000; City of Waukegan, $15,000. The county also suffers from the loss but not nearly so much as Waukegan township and city.

COUNTY BOARD FIXES SALARIES

While some reductions in allotments set aside for clerk hire in county offices were decided upon by the board of supervisors in meeting Tuesday, perhaps, the outstanding feature of the action was the fact that for once the allotments are actually based on the amounts which are believed as necessary.

But while there has been much to do in meetings of the board as to the need of reduction of allotments by the clerk's county offices the fact of the matter is that whatever the board decides is of no consequence anyway. The board is without power to enforce any ruling that it might make in regard to any salaries that are not fixed by statute.

Can Ignore Order

So county officials can if they so desire may ignore the edicts of the board and pay out just as much as they want to for clerk hire, just as long as they remain within the earnings of the office. With an office like that of the county treasurer turning over from $150,000 to $200,000 and that of the county clerk turning over from $15,000 to $18,000 in surplus fees into the county treasury each year one can realize the futility of placing such limitations.

However, it may be said for the benefit of the county officials in the past that all others have tried to remain within the allotments for clerk hire.

Laxity in Past Years

With the county auditor now a member of the official roster of the county the board of supervisors now is afforded a more complete knowledge of necessary expenditures by officials. In fact, it would appear that up until this year the board of supervisors and the finance and salaries and fees committees in fixing allotments for clerk hire merely set down figures which had been accepted as standards for many years without determining or caring as to whether, or not, the amounts were accepted.

The committees for years allotted the county clerk the sum of $17,500 for clerk hire, but the business of the office especially that pertaining to tax valuation work has boosted annual expenditures for assistants until last year it totaled $21,069.39. The board has reduced this to $20,000 for the coming year.

Strong men have strong features. A doll's features indicate a doll's mind.

Gasoline Prices Still Climbing; But War Goes On

Prices of gasoline which last week were at the lowest point in years in Lake county started on another upward trend Saturday and continued mounting this week.

All of the oil companies boosted their prices 2 cents per gallon on Saturday, while the independent companies raised their prices an additional 2 1/2 cents on Wednesday. The large merger companies failed to fall in line with the independents on the last boost and may decide to teach the others a lesson.

MILK OFFICIALS EXPLAIN FEDERAL JUDGE'S RULING

Only Two Companies Involved in Federal Court
Decision

In order that no confusion may exist regarding the recent ruling of Federal Judge Barnes that neither Congress nor the Secretary of Agriculture has any authority to regulate milk production, Pure Milk Association officials today issued a clarifying statement, pointing out that Judge Barnes' decision applied only to the Meadowmoor Dairies, Inc., of Chicago, and the Columbus Milk Producers' Cooperative Association of Astoria, Wis.

On November 21st, Judge Barnes granted a permanent injunction restraining the government from enforcing the Agricultural Adjustment Administration's milk licensing in the Chicago area, as it applies to the two parties involved in the complaint. No other milk distributors or milk producers are involved.

Others may seek similar relief, but they must follow the same steps. In addition, each case is judged on the merits of testimony presented. The Department of Justice at Washington has been asked by the AAA counsel for a review of this decision by the Circuit Court of Appeals.

In granting his injunction, Judge Barnes agreed that the petitioners were engaged in interstate commerce (which would give the AAA jurisdiction in the case, supposedly), but he took issue with the contention of the AAA that the entire Chicago sales area with respect to the milk is in the current of interstate commerce, despite the fact that the Chicago Milk Shed extends through the states of Illinois, Wisconsin, and Indiana.

"The fact that an article is produced for export to another state," his opinion says in part, "does not of itself make it an article of interstate commerce within the meaning of section 8, article 1, of the Constitution."

The wording of this section concerns the power to regulate interstate commerce, or transactions affecting interstate commerce, saying that such power does not embrace the power to regulate the production of articles intended for commerce. This section itself, in the opinion of the Pure Milk Association officials, is not clear. Until the Supreme Court of the United States makes a clear cut decision on the validity of the AAA this issue will probably not be settled.

However, Association officials are informed that the decisions by Federal Judges upholding the AAA and NRA exceed the number of decisions against it. The AAA License is still in effect on the Chicago market as before. In fact, Secretary-Managers, Don Geyer and a Committee of three Directors are in Washington at the present time seeking amendments which will place the Association in a stronger position.

Plan Young Men's Club

A move has been launched to organize a young men's athletic club, according to Bill Murphy at whose home on Bishop street a meeting will be held Friday night to discuss plans. With the old Danish hall as headquarters, many activities, including dances, are being planned for the winter months, the young men interested in the project have announced.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Wood and children of Chicago will be Thanksgiving guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morgan.

Harold Nelson of Bloomington and Louis Pitcher of Dixon, Ill., will be guests at the S. Boyer Nelson home over Thanksgiving.

For a limited time God seems to be on the side of the largest purse and the largest cannon, but justice is as certain as it is slow.

DEFER DECISION ON ALFORD PLEA FOR CERTIFICATION

Matter Is Postponed Until Next Friday for Final Action

With Republicans regarding the procedure as of little importance, with Democrats planning their hopes on it and with the interest of the entire county centered upon it another week was added to the suspense surrounding the hearing on the writ of mandamus brought to force certification of Russ Alford as county clerk, when it comes before Judge Ralph J. Dady, last Saturday.

The court set today for the final hearing on the matter which will determine as to whether, or not, Lew A. Hendee, republican, is the duly elected county clerk as decided by the election canvassing board.

Delay of a week in the disposition of the writ will permit Judge Dady to complete the hearing into case in the circuit court at Rockford but it prevented both of the candidates for the office from enjoying their Thanksgiving dinner with gusto.

Does Not Affect Contest

Of course, no matter which way the court rules the issue cannot be considered as settled. One of the candidates is certain to contest the election. The action of the court will merely determine which must file the action. This of course presumes that the statements of both candidates are to be believed.

There is a little question of finances that enters very strongly into the matter. The opinion has been expressed by those who should know that a contest of this election issue will cost in excess of $3,000 and this will have to be furnished by the one who files the plea.

Donations Are Few

While Hendee's financial state is unknown, help being accorded to Alford by appropriate through contributions of funds. The contributions to date have not been what can be regarded as overly generous and much more money will have to be raised through this source if the movement is to be a factor in financing the contest.

STATE FACES CRISIS; NO FUNDS FOR RELIEF; NEED $36,000,000

Gov. Horner May "Extend Base" of State Sales Tax

Springfield, Nov. 29.—With its sales tax law extended until such time as it may be repealed, the state administration now faces its most serious political and economic crisis. There is no money for December relief and none for 1935. The federal relief officials insist that Illinois provide at least $2,500,000 a month until 1936, an estimated $36,000,000 in round figures. During the Democratic powwow at French Lick, Ind., after the election, the bosses announced that State's Attorney Courtney of Cook county was their choice to run against U. S. Senator J. H. Lewis in 1936. They did this to embarrass Courtney, now allied with the old Lewis-O'Donnell-Dunne-Harrison wing of the Illinois Democracy.

Governor Horner was told he could run for re-election. He is known to have his eye on the senatorship and returned from the powwow in anything but a happy frame of mind toward Nash and Kelly. When they summoned him to Chicago last week and demanded that he include the relief problem in the business of the

Former Antioch Woman to Be Buried Here Friday

Funeral services for Mrs. Fred Stephenson will be held Friday from the Strang funeral chapel at 2:00 o'clock with Eastern Star services at the grave in Hillside cemetery. Rev. S. E. Pollock will have charge of the service.

Mrs. Stephenson, the former Leonella Taylor, died at Waukegan, Tuesday after having undergone an operation Monday. For many years the Stephensons were residents of Antioch where Mr. Stephenson was connected with the dairy business. They left here several years ago and for the past few years had been living in Waukegan.

She leaves her mother, Mrs. Della Taylor of Antioch, brothers, sisters, and many relatives and friends in this locality where she had lived since childhood.

City Briefs

Mrs. W. A. Roslag, Russell and Robert Roslag of Round Lake, Mrs. H. E. Lease and Mrs. Somers of Waukegan went to St. Paul Friday, returning Saturday. They attended the funeral of Mrs. Richard Oorman, a niece of Mr. Roslag.

Mrs. Conrad Buschman and Miss Linda Buschman will spend Thanksgiving at the home of the former's daughter, Mrs. Harry Roe, at Le-mont, Illinois.

Misses Eileen Osmond, Ruth Cramlin, Lillian Vykuta and Hazel Hawkins who are attending Normal school at DeKalb, will spend their Thanksgiving vacation at home.

Mrs. Margaret Canode, mother of Mrs. L. V. Siller, and Mr. and Mrs. Delos Andrew and two children, all of Oregon, Ill., will spend Thanksgiving here with the Siller family.

Mrs. Ada Overton, Miss Pearl Lux, Chicago, and Mrs. Minnie Taylor and son, Bud, of Waukegan, will be guests of their mother, Mrs. Charles Lux, Sr., on Thanksgiving.

Mr. and Mrs. Oren Hostetter, Leslie, Allen and Ruth Hostetter attended the funeral of Nancy Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Taylor of Evanston, last week.

Fourth special session he balked. An all night conference failed to budget him.

The governor came back to Springfield smiling. He had, at last, won the whip-hand over Kelly and Nash. Kelly wanted to be re-elected in April. If relief in Chicago is crippled, even to a slight degree, Kelly will have no chance to win. The more relief the more Democratic votes, is the way Kelly and Nash regard the situation.

There is no way to get relief funds without the help of the governor. There are many things which he would like to have from his co-bosses before he lets them get up from over the barrel. He went to Chicago Friday morning to treat with them. Again they told him "riots and bloodshed" would follow any reduction in Cook county relief. Their threats to appeal to Washington provoked only smiles. It remains to be seen how matters will work out.

ANTIOCH BANK TAKES WAUKEGAN SCHOOL WARRANTS

First National Buys $15,000 in Writs; Other Banks Purchase Also

Waukegan school officials announced Monday that $65,000 in participation warrants had been taken up by Lake county banks. The First National of Antioch purchased an additional $15,000 in warrants. Negotiations are under way to dispose of the writs in banks in Highland Park and Lake Forest, school officials stated.

Teachers' salaries for November will be paid with 80 per cent in cash and the remaining 20 per cent in coupon books issued by food companies, according to Edward Holmberg, treasurer for the Waukegan grade school district.

Deprived of P. C. Tax

Waukegan city schools are deprived of $24,000 that would be coming to the school system, through non-payment of the Public Service Co. and Waukegan Generating Co. taxes. The utility company can not pay its bill because the matter is tied up in court. William Brechelsen, president of the Waukegan Taxpayers' association, petitioned for a writ of mandamus to force the board of review of last year to re-convene and reassess the utility company holdings in Waukegan township. The courts have ruled with Brechelsen and this leaves the Public Service company and the Waukegan Generating company without an assessment for the last year. Consequently there is no basis on which to pay a tax and the schools will not be one unit a valuation is set definitely.

Under the assessment the utility company's tax bill was $36,000. Non-payment deprives the Waukegan city schools of $24,000; the Waukegan Township high school, $20,000; City of Waukegan, $15,000. The county also suffers from the loss but not nearly so much as Waukegan township and city.

COUNTY BOARD FIXES SALARIES

While some reductions in allotments set aside for clerk hire in county offices were decided upon by the board of supervisors in meeting Tuesday, perhaps, the outstanding feature of the action was the fact that for once the allotments are actually based on the amounts which are believed as necessary.

But while there has been much to do in meetings of the board as to the need of reduction of allotments by the board for the hiring of deputies and clerks in county offices the fact of the matter is that whatever the board decides is of no consequence anyway. The board is without power to enforce any ruling that it might make in regard to any salaries that are not fixed by statute.

Can Ignore Order.

So county officials can if they so desire may ignore the edicts of the board and pay out just as much as they want to for clerk hire, just as long as they remain within the earnings of the office. With an office like that of the county treasurer turning over from $160,000 to $200,000 and that of the county clerk turning over from $15,000 to $18,000 in surplus fees into the county treasury each year one can realize the futility of placing such limitations.

However, it may be said for the benefit of the county officials in the past that all of them have tried to remain within the allotments for a clerk hire.

Laxity in Past Years

With the county auditor now a member of the official roster of the county the board of supervisors now is afforded a more complete knowledge of necessary expenditures by officials. In fact, it would appear that up until this year the board of supervisors and the finance and salaries and fees committees in fixing allotments for clerk hire merely set down figures which had been accepted as standards for many years without determining or caring as to whether, or not, the would be accepted.

The committees for years allotted the county clerk the sum of $17,500 for clerk hire, but the business of the office especially that pertaining to tax valuation work has boosted annual expenditures for assistants until last year it totalled $21,669.39. The board has reduced this to $20,000 for the coming year.

Strong men have strong features. A doll's features indicate a doll's mind.

Gasoline Prices Still Climbing; But War Goes On

Prices of gasoline which last week were at the lowest point in years in Lake county started on another upward trend Saturday and continued mounting this week.

All of the oil companies boosted their prices 2 cents per gallon on Saturday, while the independent companies raised their prices an additional 2 1/2 cents on Wednesday. The large merger companies failed to fall in line with the independents on the last boost and may decide to teach the others a lesson.

MILK OFFICIALS EXPLAIN FEDERAL JUDGE'S RULING

Only Two Companies Involved in Federal Court Decision

In order that no confusion may exist regarding the recent ruling of Federal Judge Barnes that neither Congress nor the Secretary of Agriculture has any authority to regulate milk production, Pure Milk Association officials today issued a clarifying statement, pointing out that Judge Barnes' decision applied only to the Meadowmoor Dairies, Inc., of Chicago, and the Columbus Milk Producers' Cooperative Association of Astoria, Wis.

On November 21st, Judge Barnes granted a permanent injunction restraining the government from enforcing the Agricultural Adjustment Administration's milk licensing in the Chicago area, as it applies to the two parties involved in the complaint, No. 10,000, and the Columbus Milk Producers' Cooperative Association of Astoria, Wis.

Others may seek similar relief, but they must follow the same steps. In addition, each case is judged on the merits of testimony presented. The Department of Justice at Washington has been asked by the AAA counsel for a review of this decision by the Circuit Court of Appeals.

In granting his injunction, Judge Barnes agreed that the petitioners were engaged in interstate commerce (which would give the AAA jurisdiction in the case, supposedly) but he took issue with the contention of the AAA that the entire Chicago sales area with respect to the milk is in the current of interstate commerce—despite the fact that the Chicago Milk Shed extends through the states of Illinois, Wisconsin, and Indiana.

"The fact that an article is produced for export to another state," his opinion says in part, "does not of itself make it an article of interstate commerce within the meaning of section 8, article 1, of the Constitution."

The wording of this section concerns the power to regulate interstate commerce, or transactions affecting interstate commerce, saying that such power does not embrace the power to regulate the production of articles intended for commerce. This section itself, in the opinion of the Pure Milk Association officials, is not clear. Until the Supreme Court of the United States makes a clear decision on the validity of the AAA this issue will probably not be settled.

However, Association officials are informed that the decisions by Federal Judges upholding the AAA and NRA exceed the number of decisions against it. The AAA license is still in effect on the Chicago market as before. In fact, Secretary-Manager Don Geyer and a Committee of three Directors are in Washington at the present time seeking amendments which will place the Association in a stronger position.

Plan Young Men's Club

A move has been launched to organize a young men's athletic club, according to Bill Murphy at whose home on Bishop street a meeting will be held Friday night to discuss plans. With the old Danish hall as headquarters, many activities, including dances, are being planned for the winter months, the young men interested in the project have announced.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Wood and children of Chicago will be Thanksgiving guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morgan.

Harold Nelson of Bloomington and Louis Plicher of Dixon, Ill., will be guests at the S. Boyer Nelson home over Thanksgiving.

For a limited time God seems to be on the side of the largest purse and the largest cannon, but justice is as certain as it is slow.

DEFER DECISION ON ALFORD PLEA FOR CERTIFICATION

Matter Is Postponed Until Next Friday for Final Action

With Republicans regarding the procedure as of little importance, with Democrats pinning their hopes on it and with the interest of the entire county centered upon it another week was added to the suspense surrounding the hearing on the writ of mandamus brought to force certification of Russ Alford as county clerk, when it comes before Judge Ralph J. Dady, last Saturday.

The court set today for the final hearing on the matter which will determine as to whether, or not, Low A. Hendee, republican, is the duly elected county clerk as decided by the election canvassing board.

Delay of a week in the disposition of the writ will permit Judge Dady to complete the hearing into case in the circuit court at Rockford but it prevented both of the candidates for the office from enjoying their Thanksgiving dinner with gusto.

Does Not Affect Contest

Of course, no matter which way the court rules the issue cannot be considered as settled. One of the candidates is certain to contest the election. The action of the court will merely determine which must file the action. This of course is presuming that the statements of both candidates are to be believed.

There is a little question of finances that enters very strongly into the matter. The opinion has been expressed by those who should know that a contest of this election issue will cost in excess of $3,000 and this will have to be furnished by the one who files the plea.

Donations Are Few

While Hendee's financial state is unknown, he is being accorded to Alford by supporters through contributions of funds. These contributions to date have not been what can be regarded as overly generous and much more money will have to be raised through this source if the movement is to be a factor in financing the contest.

87 FROM LAKE CO. IN ATTENDANCE AT STATE UNIVERSITY

With the announcement that the enrollment at the University of Illinois totalled 10,747 on November 1 came the additional announcement that eighty-seven young men and young women from Lake County are attending the Urbana-Champaign department of the institution. Thirty-eight of this number are from Waukegan alone. IS BUSINESS RARIN' TO GO?

"For the first time since depression began," said Henry I. Harriman, President of the United States Chamber of Commerce, recently, "business is rarin' to go."

Mr. Harriman did not elaborate upon that statement, but the thought behind it is not difficult to trace. When the crash came, business men could not believe that it was true—practically all of them, in company with the nation's principal economists and most government experts, were of the opinion that the set-back was purely temporary, and that recovery would follow within a very short time. Recovery didn't come, and for the next year or two industry staggered around blindly, going from bad to worse, without a single bright cloud being observed in the economic skies.

Then came the Democratic victory—and business, which had considerable faith in Mr. Hoover, even though he couldn't pull good times out of a hat, was frankly worried. The Roosevelt experiments obviously marked a new era in American government—no President in history had been so daring, none had tampered so much with the existing financial and industrial machinery. During the first two years of the Roosevelt administration, the attitude of business was one of slightly hostile observation—it waited, not only to see what was going to happen, but what the verdict of the public would be at the polls.

That verdict was given last month, when the voters in the words of William Allen White, all but crowned Mr. Roosevelt. According to an Associated Press dispatch of November 17, business and government have definitely united in a mighty joint effort to produce recovery. The representative of business in this matter was Mr. Harriman—government was represented by NRA's head man, Lawyer Donald Richberg, and James A. Moffatt, head of the great housing administration which hopes to put new financial blood into heavy industries by making it possible for people to build new homes and repair old ones more cheaply than they could in the past.

Mr. Harriman made the statement that heads this article after he called on Mr. Richberg—and he added a sentence of great importance: That there was no difference of opinion between the two men. He then said that business was entering a new period of "realism," and was leaving the painful period of "readjustment," behind.

What that means, of course, is that industry and the Administration are gradually arbitrating their differences. Many observers are of the opinion that Mr. Roosevelt is now moving toward the "right," so far as the legislative trend is concerned, while business is growing less conservative, more willing to take a chance. Neither side is satisfied—this is a known fact that high Administration officials have a number of reforms in mind which they would put forward if it were not for fear of meeting capital, while industry would prefer that the Administration go much farther toward the conservative side than it is likely to go. But both seem to be agreeing on a middle ground which will be reasonably satisfactory to all concerned.

There may be one difficulty with the new governmental-industry rapprochement—labor. Labor heads are distrustful of both business and government—they feel that they are getting the short end of the deal. Recent dispatches indicate that a number of new strikes—principally in the textile industry—are in the offing.

TAKE A LOOK ABROAD

Critics of the American form of government, who have grown more numerous and vocal than usual during the past five years, might find it easier to convince the American people that revolutionary change is necessary if it were not for the examples of Europe.

There, since the war, almost every conceivable governmental "ism" has been tried. With the exceptions of a few countries, democracy has been thrown overboard as worthless and outmoded. And here are some of the results:

Italy is under the rule of an iron-headed dictator who has abrogated freedom of speech, freedom of action and freedom of the press. Under his direction, it is true, great material progress has been made—at the expense of almost all the individual and corporate liberties for which the great Italian liberators fought.

Germany exists under a similar, but much more ruthless dictatorship. Party government has disappeared—when election time comes, the German people have the "privilege" of voting either "yes" or "no" on the proposition of whether they like the present Reich leader or not. Those who vote "no" are very apt to find themselves dispossessed residents of concentration camps before another week rolls around. Newspapers may publish nothing without governmental permission—and the slightest criticism of the existing regime is sufficient to cause the suspension of a publication and imprisonment of its editors.

In Russia, a different "ism" obtains, but conditions are almost precisely like those in Germany. A ruthless secret police has thousands of spies at work in the country—and anyone who expresses disapproval of the Stalin government may soon start as a prisoner on the long trek to Siberian forests.

The list could be continued, but these examples will serve to show the "improvements" on democratic government that have been inaugurated in Europe. One wonders what those who scoff at fundamental Americanism would like to give us in exchange for it.

WHERE DO JOBS COME FROM?

In a recent newspaper article, Richard Washburn Child, former Ambassador to Italy, and a noted author, pointed out that there are only two sources of jobs and payrolls:

One source is government. The other is industry. Jobs can be provided by government in but two ways. Either all businesses must be nationalized and operated by a bureaucracy, or government must continually borrow more money, raising taxes all the while, in order to put idle people to work.

Under the first, government will inevitably become communistic in principle. The worker is a tool of the state—he lives solely to advance the interest of the political ruling class. He is regarded as a machine, to be worked as cheaply as possible until he wears out—and then he is thrown into a human scrap heap.

Under the second, all may be merry for a while—until government's source of credit dries up. It becomes impossible to raise more money through taxes—businesses and individuals have already been bled white. Obligations cannot be met—and government goes into bankruptcy.

One of these plans must inevitably be followed if we depend upon government to permanently provide us with work and livelihood. But it seems impossible that the American people will pursue that Utopian will-o'-the-wisp.

It's more likely that they'll, as Mr. Child says: "The steady job will come from America's enterprise—improved—with new breath of life. Nowhere else!"

DAMS—FORTY YEARS AGO AND NOW

Among the news reports as published in the Antioch News forty years ago this week appeared the announcement that a group of citizens in the chain of lakes region were advocating the rebuilding of the Fox river dam at McHenry for the purpose of raising water levels in the lakes. A petition bearing five hundred names had been influential in placing a bill for the dam before the legislators at Springfield. The cost of the project was estimated at $800.

Compare that figure to the vast sums being spent today by the federal government in the Tennessee Valley Authority, a vast hydro-power project that is to cost over $300,000,000 of taxpayers' money. The cost includes the building of seven dams at $200,000,000; and lines and systems to cost another $100,000,000.

The consequences of this gigantic expenditure of money (which the administration claims will relieve unemployment) is certain to result in annihilation of coal markets and the shut-down of many coal mines, making thousands of miners jobless; large losses of revenue to railroads; ruin to private utilities, and loss of revenue to private investors who have 781 millions of dollars invested in the region affected. And the taxpayers foot the bill to the tune of a half billion dollars.

The Appalachian Coals, Inc. of Cincinnati, has referred to the Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA) as "The Vision Asinine." It's all of that, and more.

MILLBURN

Millburn school was closed on Wednesday when Miss Bauman with Louise Sheehan of Bruce Lake school spent the day visiting schools.

Mrs. Frank Edwards entertained the bridge club at her home Thursday afternoon.

Miss Ethel McGulre spent Wednesday with her grandmother, Mrs. C. E. Denman at Garcoo.

Rev. Holden and Miss Doris Jamison drove to Chicago Friday. Miss Edith Holden returned home with them, after two weeks' visit with friends in Indianapolis.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Erwin of Waukegan spent Sunday afternoon at the George Edwards home.

Rev. William Coughran of the Austin Congregational Church in Chicago gave a splendid talk to the young people at their service Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Koefoed and daughter, Barbara of Bruce Lake called at the F. O. Edwards home Saturday evening.

Dogs Have Topknot

Many dogs of the Mexican hairless variety are crested with a topknot and carry a tuft of hair at the tip of the tail. In others it is bristly and upright. The eyes, lashed, are yellow, hazel or dark, bordered with pink or dark rims like that of an impatient race horse, the nervous tremor of the muscles and sinews is characteristic. Not classed for any particular utility, he is considered, however, a good hunter of rabbits and rats. His owners attest that his intelligence, brightness and affection more than repay that tolerance of his unprepossessing appearance.

The Double Cross

The double cross is known as the cross of Lorraine or the patriarchal cross, which dates back to the Ninth century, when it became the emblem of the eastern branch of the Christian church. It symbolizes hope and humanity and was adopted as the badge of the war against intolerance in 1902 at the International Conference on Tolerance in Berlin. In 1903 it was formally adopted as the emblem of the National Tolerance Association.

Shamrock, Ancient Plant

The shamrock, being a form of clover, is one of the most ancient plants in Ireland and was the "seamrock" in Gaelic. It is one of the many trifoliate. The kind best known has white blossoms, but it is cherished most for its leaves, which figure in holy tradition.

Whipping Was Disgrace

To whip an Ohio Indian child as punishment for misbehavior was a disgrace; so the mother, for disciplinary purposes, ducked her offspring in cold water.

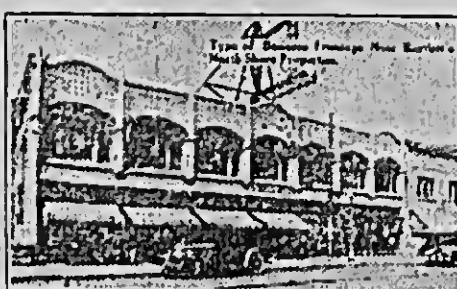

Worrying is so bad that some folks let their creditors do all of it.

Edison Disliked Decorations

Upon Thomas Edison's second trip to Europe the French Telephone company offered him a decoration which required that he wear a long sash. But the Ohionian flatly refused with the assertion that he couldn't "stand for that." Persuaded by his wife, he did however consent to wear the little red button of the League of Honor. But whenever he saw any American approaching he would slip the button into his pocket for fear, as he said, "they might think I am trying to show off."

Designating Labor Day

On June 28, 1894, President Cleveland approved a bill designating the first Monday of September in each year, the day celebrated and known as Labor's holiday, "a legal public holiday to all intents and purposes as Christmas, the first day of January, the 22nd day of February, the 30th day of May and the Fourth of July are now made by law public holidays."

Bees Raid Sugar Refinery

Millions of bees recently raided the sugar refinery works in a suburb of Auckland, New Zealand. Workmen, attired in light clothing because of the great heat, attempted to rout them, and were seriously stung. Thousands of bees were drowned in the sirup and refining had to be stopped until the dead of battle were removed.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Soul and Body" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 25.

The Golden Text was, "The word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart" (Hebrews 4:12).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "I will bless the Lord at all times; his praise shall continually be in my mouth. My soul shall make her boast in the Lord; the humble shall hear thereof, and be glad. O magnify the Lord with me, and let us exalt his name together" (Psalm 34:1-3).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The Identity, or Idea, of all reality continues forever; but Spirit, or the divine Principle of all, is not in Spirit's formations. Soul is synonymous with Spirit, God, the creative, governing, infinite Principle outside of finite form, which forms only reflect" (p. 71).

SHIP was young and very pretty. Almost hidden by an armful of packages she lowered them long enough to smile at the old druggist who smiled back, reemerged suddenly, of some one also young and fair who used to smile at him that way many years ago.

"May I have two nickels?" she asked laying a ten-cent piece on the counter, "I'd like to telephone."

"Certainly," said Doc Putnam cheerily, adding: "We have two telephone booths, one in the rear and one at the front. Take your choice."

"I'll take the one in the rear," she smiled, gathering her bundles together. "It doesn't matter which one you use," the druggist's eyes twinkled, "I can hear everything you say."

Laughing gaily, she entered the booth. As she called the number, Doc listened idly. Some lucky young husband was about to be called, he guessed, perhaps informed that dinner would be late because his darling had been delayed while shopping. Doc enjoyed delaying the people who passed in and out of his drug store day after day and generally his guesses were right.

"Is this Bishop 7-3232?" the girl was speaking. "This is Mary. Yes, John was supposed to phone me at exactly five o'clock and I'll never be there on time. Yes, I'll give you the number in the phone booth and he can call me here. Ready?"

Not far wrong, thought the old druggist proudly and turned to greet two new customers. A blond, rather overdressed, and an attentive young man.

He entered the phone booth in the front of the store and the blond took a seat by the soda fountain. As the old druggist rearranged a window display which had fallen down, he heard the young man in the booth give the operator a number.

Suddenly he stiffened to attention. It was the same number called by the girl in the rear phone booth.

"This is John, is Mary there?" The young man's voice was easily distinguishable to old Doc Putnam.

"Yes, yes," the voice was suddenly impatient. "Let me have the number, O. K. Thanks. Good, I'll call her at once." The receiver clicked as he hung up.

"Will you let me have some nickels, please?" the young man had swung open the door of the booth and was holding a dime in the general direction of the druggist and smiling at the blond.

With shaking hands the old man made change and the young man turned to the phone and called the number in the back booth where his wife waited.

In a few minutes things would be popping in the store and Doc wondered what attitude the erring husband would take. And what of the blond? He turned and regarded her as she sat impatiently tapping her foot and puffing a cigarette.

But the telephone conversation broke in on his thoughts.

"Hello, Mary, this John? Yes, yes, I know. I'm very sorry, but I won't get home until late—delayed downtown, you know."

There was a pause. "I know I promised but—"

Suddenly Doc Putnam was angry. Suddenly he hated the frivolous blond girl, tapping her foot so impatiently, so sure of herself and the man she waited for. They were cheaters, that's what they were!

What would happen when the phone conversation ended and these two stepped out and confronted each other? All the dreams of the sweet-faced girl in the back of the store would come crashing down about her. It would be a cruel thing to watch. A lamp rose in the old man's throat. Suddenly he determined that it would not happen.

The rear phone booth opened, and the girl came out. Picking up her bundles, she started toward the door. Then she caught sight of the young man standing in the door of the front phone booth.

"Why, John—" her laughter bubbled out—"What a coincidence. You were in that phone booth all the time?"

"Mary!" He was both surprised and frightened.

The blond, who had been staring at the girl indignantly, stepped forward. But a firm hand grasped her arm.

"Mrs. Smith," said old Doc Putnam, loudly, "this is probably the best cure for your ailment."

He had seized a bottle from a shelf and was holding it before her.

"That's his wife," he whispered, in a hoarse undertone.

Bewildered, the blond was staring at the skull and cross-bones on a bottle of iodine.

In the background, Doc was dimly conscious of the strained voice and laughter of the young man.

As the husband walked out with his wife, he half turned. Without glancing at the blond, his eyes riveted on the face of the old druggist, and in their depths was mingled a story of contrition and gratitude.

AMUSEMENTS

"Mrs. Wiggs" at the Genesee Theatre

One of America's immortal classics, "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" has been made into a charming and delightful photoplay by Paramount and comes to the Genesee Theatre for three days starting Thursday (Thanksgiving Day). With Pauline Lord, W. C. Fields and Zasu Pitts in the featured roles it comes as entertainment for the whole family.

Sunday the Genesee is offering something different in a stage entertainment in the rousing "Gay 90" revue The Bowery Music Hall Follies. A cast of fifty stars in this complete B & K Unit show offer a delightful hour of fun, music, song and dance. The screen attraction Sunday is "It's a Gift," with that funny fellow W. C. Fields and Baby LeRoy.

Monday and Tuesday another great stage attraction, the WLS Barn Dance will be seen on the Genesee Theatre stage. These popular radio favorites include Lulu Belle, Tom Corwine and his Cornhuskers, Skyland Scotty, The Hoosier Hot Shots, Tom Corwine and Evelyn Overstake. They provide over 60 minutes of stage fun and frolic. Exciting adventures on the high seas describes the screen attraction Monday and Tuesday, "The Captain Hates the Sea," starring John Gilbert, Wynne Gibson, Walter Connolly. Four complete stage and screen shows will be offered each day—matinee and evening.

"Kidnaped"—Drama at Crystal Friday

"Kidnaped," modern crime drama, will be presented Friday night at the Crystal Theatre by the J. B. Rotnour Players who were greeted by a packed house at their first performance here last Friday. "Kidnaped" is taken from facts surrounding a recent kidnaping. Principal figures in the case will be recalled by those who have read news reports of the crime that attracted nation wide interest.

Antioch merchants, as usual, are giving free tickets with all cash purchases. Those who have merchants' tickets will be admitted to the theatre upon payment of ten cents service charge at the box office. See advertisement for list of firms giving free tickets.

Kenosha-Gateway

A big time in entertainment is offered at Kenosha's two great theatres this week-end, the Kenosha and the Gateway. As usual, five big acts of vaudeville will be seen on the Kenosha stage. The vaudevillians will be headed by "Three Ranch Boys," NBC radio stars, and on the screen W. C. Fields in that hilarious feature, "It's a Gift."

At the Gateway, the musical comedy hit of the year—"College Rhythm," with Joe Penner, Lannie Ross, Jack Oakie, Helen Mack and hundreds of beautiful girls.

Chimney Color

Fred, a chimney seems to cut a house in parts. It is important, in painting a small dwelling in an attractive color scheme, to make the chimney an integral part of the picture. It may be painted with either stucco or concrete paint.

HICKORY

About twenty-five of her young friends gathered at her home last Friday evening and surprised Miss Ruth Edna Wells with a party in honor of her sixteenth birthday.

Miss Ruth Paulsen, Miss Anna Drom and Billy Nielsen took the school children, in their cars, to see the show, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," given in the Crystal Theatre in Antioch Monday afternoon.

Geyherdt Lange left on Sunday morning on a motor trip up into Wisconsin. He intended to visit his brother who is ill in the hospital in Madison and then go on to see his parents at Wauwoc, Wis., returning by auto on Thursday.

Wilbur Hunter and sons, Arthur and Jerry, were Kenosha visitors last Thursday.

J. Tronborg from Chicago called at the W. D. Thompson home last Tuesday afternoon.

The school children are enjoying a piano these days. A lady in Lake Bluff told Supt. Petty she had a piano to give away to some school. So last Wednesday Mr. Ralph Fields, Mr. Nels Nielsen drove to Lake Bluff and brought back the piano in their truck.

Warren Robinson from Chetek, Wis., called at the Curtis Wells home, last Thursday.

Harold Nielsen of Belvidere spent Sunday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nels Nielsen.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Fields and daughter, Hazel, visited the latter's cousin, Lawrence Dibble, of Pad-duck's Lake, Sunday afternoon. He is seriously ill in the Burlington hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert McQuestion from Kenosha were visitors at the Leo Carney home on Sunday.

Sunday dinner guests at the John Crawford home were Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Howe from Russell and their daughter and son-in-law, Mrs. and Mr. Raymond Osborn from Oxford, Wisconsin.

Mr. and Mrs. John Postma and Jack and Betty from Kenosha visited Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Fields and family Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. David Noveller and daughters from Union Grove, Wis., spent Sunday at David Pullen's.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bray and Doris also Miss Margaret Cook from Waukegan visited Sunday afternoon at the Chris Cook home.

O. L. Hollenbeck picked three yellow roses from his rose bushes last week.

For the past six weeks the high school students have been preparing for the annual exam. The exam will be held on Tuesday, December 4, at 10:30 a. m. The students will be examined in English, mathematics, science, and history. The exam will be held in the high school building.

The Thanksgiving holiday will be observed with no school on Thursday and Friday.

A very interesting talk on "Safety" was given by M. C. Nelson, Safety Engineer for the Wisconsin Gas & Electric Company before the assembly on Thursday.

The opening basketball game of the season is scheduled with Rochester at Wilmot on the evening of December 7th.

Daniel was removed from the hospital, where he has been a patient for several weeks, to his home at Brighton the first of the week.

There will be English services at 9:30 and German at 10:45 at the Lutheran church on Sunday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Boulden and daughter, Lorraine and Mrs. Sophie Christensen from Edison Park were Sunday guests of Mrs. Hannah Boulden and daughter, Mary.

William Lieske was at Madison over the week-end and attended the Minnesota and Wisconsin football game.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Sheahan of Harvard and Mr. and Mrs. George March of Kenosha were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cairns on Sunday.

Mrs. Charles Kanis returned from the St. Mary's hospital at Milwaukee on Saturday where she underwent a major operation.

Mrs. John Peterson returned from the Burlington hospital on Tuesday where she was a patient for the past week. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rudolph and son, Robert, are to spend Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. Peterson.

Lawrence Stensli, Carl Satersten, Wilmot, and George Hilbert of Salem are at Woodruff, Wis., deer hunting.

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Schnurr and children are to spend the Thanksgiving holidays in Milwaukee with Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Andersen.

There will be a low mass at the rectory of the Holy Name parish at 8 o'clock on Thanksgiving day.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pasch, Bristol, DeWitt Wayne, was baptized at the Lutheran church on Sunday by Rev. S. Jedele.

Notes from the Fox River CCC Camp The Forestry Division is constructing a nine truck garage. This project is one-third complete.

Dirt, at the cost of 6½ cents a cubic yard is being laid in the fill in the swamp on the river bank project. High water and rainy weather caused the men to lose two and a half days work last week.

The new pump house is now finished.

The army division has two new trucks.

A band from Kenosha Legion Post of Kenosha is to put on an entertainment for the camp very soon.

District Chaplain Morse from West Allis holds non-denominational services at the camp every Thursday evening. Sundays the trucks take the men who desire to Silver Lake and Wilmot for church services.

The Commissary Department has planned the following menu for dinner on Thanksgiving. There will be very few of the men away on leave on Thanksgiving. The dinner will consist of soup; celery hearts; radishes; olives; roast turkey; sage dressing; brown gravy; cranberry sauce; candied sweet potatoes; mashed potatoes; pickles; hot rolls and butter; pumpkin and mince pies and coffee.

Obituary

Word has been received of the death of Merle Marsh, 42, son of the late Joseph and Emma Marsh, who died November 14 at San Francisco. He was nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Faulkner of Wilmot, where he formerly lived and was widely known. The deceased was a World War veteran and was buried at San Francisco with military rites.

He is survived by his widow, his mother, Mrs. Oscar Rush of Redlands, California, and two brothers, Clyde of East Bakersfield, and Glen of Santa Cruz, California.

The Wilmot Chapter O. E. S. was entertained on Wednesday night by the Kenosha chapter. About thirty from here attended the meeting. Mrs. Ethel Reapke, Wilmot worthy matron, was guest in the East.

Egypt's Mickey Mouse

Among Egyptian records over 3,000 years old have been found drawings on a scrap of papyrus of a cat acting as a gosehead, with a hooked stick, and with goose waddling along under the cat's control—the equivalent of the Mickey Mouse of today.

Oldest Rococo Building

The Amalienburg in the Schloss park, Munich, looks back on 200 years of existence. It is the oldest Rococo building in Germany. The palace, built for the Electress Amalie, contains valuable woodcarvings, and mirrors and chandeliers of finest cut glass.

How to Eat for Health and Beauty

Judging by appearances Frances Dee must have a skin you love to touch. William Gargan is the man in the picture.

OFTEN the most obvious facts escape us just because they are seen so constantly that they become commonplace. Perhaps this is why we seek out new face creams, unusually packaged powders and tonics, while we ignore the proved complexion treatments of those people who have the softest, loveliest skins in the world—young babies—whose only complexion treatment is fresh milk!

LAKE VILLA

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hook were guests of Mr. Hook's mother, Mrs. Minerva Hook, in Waukegan on Thanksgiving Day. Mrs. Victor Hook has recently returned from a sight-seeing trip to Washington, D. C., and points east with the Prairie Farmer tour group.

Mrs. Kennedy of Chicago came out Wednesday evening for a visit with her mother, Mrs. Theresa Abent and her sister, Mrs. Stella Pedersen. She returned home Thursday.

Rev. E. T. DeSelms enjoyed a vacation from his studies at Garrett Biblical Institute at Evanston all this week, so was able to be with his family the entire week.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Peterson are receiving congratulations on the birth of their fourth daughter at the Lake County hospital on Monday of last week.

Miss Ruth Perry accompanied Mr. and Mrs. C. Frye when they went to their parents' home near Mattoon for the Thanksgiving vacation. They returned Sunday afternoon.

Seven officers of Cedar Lake Camp R. N. A. attended a Royal Neighbor meeting at Gurnee on Tuesday evening, and a group of other members also attended and spent a pleasant evening. The Officers' club will meet with Mrs. Fred Hamlin next Monday afternoon.

The school presented the picture of the old time story, "Uncle Tom's Cabin" and other features Tuesday afternoon and evening. These pictures are enjoyed by a number of the older people who come in the evening.

Miss Madonna Masterson left after school Wednesday evening for Chicago where she took a bus for her home in Vandalia to visit her parents over the Thanksgiving holiday.

The Ladies' Aid supper at the Daube Cafe was well attended and the ladies wish to thank all who helped in any way. The Society will meet at the Ladies' Aid room on Wednesday afternoon of next week and the losers in the recent Italy Day and Sunshine contest will entertain. All are very welcome. Then on Thursday, Dec. 13 they will hold a pot luck supper for the public and have an apron and rug sale in connection, and also present a short program. Please keep this date in mind.

Consistency of Moss

Moss is any bryophytic plant of a certain class characterized by the small, leafy, often tufted, stems bearing the sex organs. Mosses are found in all parts of the world growing on earth or rocks, the bark of trees, or, rarely, in streams. Unlike the mold organisms, they do not generally require an organic host.

Making Emery Wheels

Emery wheels can be made by mixing about one ounce of shellac to a pound of emery. Use finely powdered shellac and add a small portion of rosin, a piece about the size of a walnut, to no ounce of shellac, and a piece of old vulcanized India-rubber about the same size, to give toughness. These are well mixed and melted together.

Champagne in France

Wine must come from a limited area of France to be legally called champagne.

Willis Sheen was a business caller in Kenosha Saturday.

Miss Bernice Longman of Oak Park spent the week-end with the home folks.

The Ward "Scamp"
The word scamp originally signified a traveler, but three hundred years ago when a man traveled he generally had a good excuse for doing so, for few left home save when compelled, and to be a traveler was practically equivalent to being a rogue.

Save Surface

Fences, Minor Buildings Last Longer if Painted

"Save the surface and you save all," is not an exaggeration when it is said with reference to fences, minor structures, chicken houses, sheds, stables and basements of homes.

Neglecting exposed surfaces is "penny wise and pound foolish." A few cents may be saved at the time, but repairs made necessary by this saving will soon cost good, hard-earned dollars.

The National Lime Association, Washington, D. C., has a number of formulas for whitewashes and lime paints. The maximum cost of materials of any of these formulas is about six cents per pound. White wash or cold water paint will weigh on the average, about 12 pounds to the gallon. A gallon will cover 225 square feet of wood, 130 square feet of brick masonry and 270 feet of plaster.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By ANN PAGE

TURKEY is the big purchase to be made this week, and fortunately it is only slightly higher than last year. Roasting chickens, ducks and geese are also moderately priced. Legs of lamb and fresh and smoked hams are also popular holiday roasts.

Favorite holiday vegetables, including sweet potatoes, turnips, onions, cauliflower, broccoli and Brussels sprouts are cheap to moderate. Green beans are plentiful and much cheaper, and spinach is at nearly summer prices.

Oranges of both juice and navel types are available, the former cheap. Both cooking and eating apples are moderate. Cranberries are higher than last year but still reasonable.

Menus for Sunday include the use of holiday leftovers.

My Favorite Recipes

Frances Lee Barton says:

ON a day when you are serving the remains of a roast for dinner, begin the meal with a comforting plate of steaming, savory soup. If it is to be a cream soup you can delicately thicken it with a small quantity of quick-cooking tapioca. This will give the soup body without the least hint of stodginess. The appetizing, flavorless of Duchess Soup makes a perfect first course for a cold meat meal.

Duchess Soup

2 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca; 1 teaspoon salt; 1/2 teaspoon pepper; 1 tablespoon minced onion; 4 cups milk; 2 tablespoons butter; 1/2 cup evaporated American cheese; 2 tablespoons chopped parsley.

Combine quick-cooking tapioca, salt, pepper, onion, and milk in top of double boiler. Place over rapidly boiling water, bring to scalding point, allow 5 to 7 minutes, and cook 5 minutes, stirring frequently. Add butter, cheese, and parsley, and cook until cheese is melted. Serves 4 to 6.

Race Have Odor

It is quite possible that other races can detect the odor of the white race. Deniker, in his "The Races of Man," refers to the fact that certain travelers have ascertained they could recognize a population by its odor. The author admits that some ethnic groups have their specific odor, which gets fainter with scrupulous cleanliness, but never disappears.

Weapons of Wasps, Bees

Wasps and bees are equipped with the most formidable weapons of defense of all insects. Many insects can bite and puncture with their mouth parts, but they can't do it as handily, neatly and effectively as the wasps can puncture with their stings. The sting of the common social wasp or bee is simply a weapon of defense which is not used so long as the insect is not disturbed or threatened with injury.

Wearing Quality of Textile

In a test of the wearing quality of various textiles it was found that for every 100 days of wear given by cotton, linen gave 43 days, wool 21, silk 4, and rayon 2.

After the Thanksgiving dinner it is often a problem how to use the left-over turkey in a different way. Here's a suggestion—serve turkey chop-suey. This is a well-balanced, healthful dish that is sure to delight the family.

Turkey Chop Suey

2 cups diced turkey
1 No. 2 can chop suey vegetables
1 cup diced celery
1 teaspoon molasses
2 tablespoons chop-suey sauce
Onions or mushrooms if desired.

Cook celery and onions in a hot greased pan until nearly done. Add the diced turkey, chop suey sauce and chop suey vegetables (except bean sprouts). In a separate pan thicken a little meal stock with cornstarch, mix the molasses and add to above ingredients. Gently fold in the bean sprouts and serve immediately with hot rice.

Chow Mein

Make the turkey chop suey from the above recipe. Heat the contents of a can of chow mein noodles, place them in a deep platter. Fold the chop suey over the noodles and garnish with green onions, parsley, shredded.

Jellied Turkey

1 teaspoon gelatin
1/2 cup cold water
2 cups stock
Four sprigs parsley
Dressing
Salt and pepper
1/2 onion
Roast turkey

Soak the gelatin in cold water 5 minutes. Place left over gravy or stock, sliced vegetables and seasonings and a few of the bones if desired and any left over dressing in a saucepan. Add a little water if necessary to make two cups. Simmer slowly 1/2 hour. Remove the bones and add soaked gelatin. Strain and when the mixture begins to thicken, stir in chopped turkey and any additional seasonings you may desire. Pour into a wet mold and chill. Serve with cranberry sauce and celery tips.

Leveling Linoleum

Linoleum that is bulged or loosened around the corners and edges can be made fast to the floor with plastic roofing cement.

Sticking Drawers

When a drawer sticks slightly the condition may be cured by rubbing the edges with paraffin or soap. Worse cases require planing, filling or sandpapering.

Insulate, Save Fuel

Poor House Construction Causes Waste of Heat

Home owners are beginning to realize that much of the criticism heaped on the heating engineer in the past really was prompted by poor house construction. A large percentage of the heat in houses escapes through walls and roofs.

Proper insulation can be provided inexpensively by either of two methods in houses that are already built. Insulating material may be blown into the walls through holes from the outside or inside or it may be applied over the inside or outside of exterior walls if it is planned to resurface them. The same materials may be also applied in the attic over or between the rafters and between the floor joists.

A Federal Housing Administration improvement loan may be had to insulate any house properly, and assure its occupants increased comfort throughout the year and lower fuel bills in the winter.

New Roof Over Old Adds to Insulation

When replacing an existing shingle roof, a saving may be effected by re-roofing directly on top of the old material. In addition to the elimination of the cost of tearing off the old shingles, other advantages exist. The roof will be stiffer. Insulation value will be increased. Dirt, both inside and out, will be avoided.

Any roofing material not of excessive weight such as wood or composition shingles may be used. The roof is prepared for the job by nailing down loose shingles, splitting and nailing curled shingles, replacing missing shingles. Cut away the shingles for about two inches on all edges of the roof and replace by wooden strips. This will give a good finish and a solid nailing surface.

Nail the shingles in the usual manner, using about five penny nails, large headed, copper or zinc coated. These will be long enough to pass through the old roof.

Fix Up Resort Cottages

The Federal Housing Administration is urging resort owners to modernize their cottages by adding bathrooms and other conveniences, pointing to the valuable returns in increased rentals made possible by such improvements.

In practically all sickness, the blood contains an excess of acids, caused chiefly by bread, meat, eggs and condiments.

Feed 'Em Pie and Keep 'Em At Home Says Attractive Hollywood Star

By Mabel Love

WITH fresh fruits of many kinds now in season, America's favorite dessert—the pie—is coming into its own. And Evelyn Venable, popular screen star, knows how to build a pie and a pie crust that will make a man forget his date for a poker game.

In Hollywood a sudden wave of domesticity has swept many stars and lesser luminaries into the kitchen, and Miss Venable says that pie-making is one of the first culinary arts they try to master. "Don't like pie," she says, "the cause it sticks to their ribs. The worst fillings, of course, provide quick energy, especially valuable to those who work at such break-neck speed that every ounce of strength must be conserved."

In making pastry never trust to luck. Measure all ingredients accurately, and endeavor to work with them cold—even ice cold if possible. It is a good plan to put even the sifted flour in an ice box an hour before working with it. Here are the directions for a delicious fruit pie crust:

Never Fail Pie Crust

2 cups sifted bread flour
1 cup sifted pastry flour
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup butter (1/2 lb.)
1/2 cup lard (1/4 lb.)
4 to 1 teaspoon ice water

Mix both kinds of flour together; add the salt and baking powder and sift all together into your mixing bowl.

Add your shortening and blend with pastry blender, or with two knives, until the mixture looks like coarse meal. Never, never yield to the temptation to knead the dough, for you will have a tough pie crust just as certain as fate if you do. Have water handy and begin to add it with caution—again take warning—do not use one more spoonful than the recipe calls for. When the water is all in, and you may really only require the six spoonfuls of water, then gather the paste up in floured hands and press together.

Have your board slightly covered with a film of flour and begin to roll your crust. First press flat with the floured rolling pin. Roll from center with a light, springy touch, using only as much dough as you will require for the first crust.

Have an ungreased pan ready. When the pastry is evenly rolled and as thin as cardboard, fold over in the middle and ally onto the pie pan.

If top crust is to be used, proceed in the same manner, only you must cut a few slashes in the top crust to let out the steam. If the filling is very juicy, put some ice water on the brim of the under crust; this will seal the pie and prevent the juice running out.

And here is Miss Venable's idea of how an apple pie should be made.

Select tart apples. In case they are a little too hard, cook in just enough water to steam until they are slightly soft.
4 large apples sliced thin
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 tablespoon butter
Line one 9-inch pie dish with pastry rolled to 1/4-inch thickness; moisten edges with cold water; fill with apples; sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon and dot with the butter. Cover with top crust. Bake in hot oven (450 degrees F.) 15 minutes, then decrease heat to moderate (350 degrees) and bake 30 minutes longer.

YOUR CHILD AND THE SCHOOL

By Dr. ALLEN G. IRELAND
Dentist, Physical Health Educator
New Jersey State Department of Public Instruction

Medical Advice Is Cheap

Medical advice is cheap. I mean, of course, that in the long run it pays to seek expert advice early, whatever the cost. As the safety engineers say, "It is better to be safe than sorry."

The idea for this caution grew out of the experience of two mothers who barked too heavily on smatterings of popular information. One mother, caught in the wave of enthusiasm following the announcement of Violester, failed to heed the warning on the package to the effect that "dosages should be regulated by a physician."

The second mother heard that iodine was essential to health; indeed, it was even being given to children at school in some parts of the country. It seemed so safe, the literature so convincing. She started feeding a salt preparation to her daughter. Here were two instances where the eagerness of mother love blotted out that ever-important quality—"common sense."

Both cases came to grief; fortunately, though, prompt medical care prevented actual tragedies. The possibilities were sufficiently grave, however, to justify this warning. Don't fool with drugs. Don't treat illness on hearsay. Don't rely on limited information. And don't believe all you read in advertisements. You may pay dearly in the end. The most economical procedure always is to find out what is wrong, to have faith in your physician and to follow his advice.

School sports: safe or injurious? Dr. Ireland will take up this important question in his next article.

Meaning of "Junk"

The word junket as often applied to congress was originally applied to a banquet, or a picnic or excursion with feasting but it has come to mean a trip at public expense by government officials to some distant post, territory or public works for the purpose, they claim, of investigating conduct or for inspection. Congressmen, especially, have been noted in the past for their junkets to distant regions flying the American flag—Pathfinder Magazine.

Size of Yellowstone Park

Yellowstone national park is chiefly in the northwest part of Wyoming with narrow adjacent strips in Montana and Idaho. It covers a surface as the park proper about 62 miles in length, from north to south and about 54 miles in width, with an actual area of 3,350 square miles. To this region, as originally circumscribed, a forest preserve of some 2,000 square miles has been added on the east and south, giving a full area to the park of somewhat over 5,350 square miles.

Operated by Mouse Power

In the nineteenth century, a man in Scotland perfected a machine that was operated by mouse power. Running in revolving cages, the mice manufactured sewing thread, twisting and reeling 20 feet a day, writes W. T. Hogue, Denton, Texas, in Collier's Weekly. The inventor was building a mill to use 10,000 mice when he died. Apparently he never realized the work involved in putting them in and taking them out of 10,000 cages each day.

Barcelona Is Aged

The foundation of Barcelona, Spain, is attributed to Hercules, 400 years "to a day before Rome was born." Its known history dates back several centuries before Christ. It was here that the first steamship was launched in 1843. It was propelled by two steam-driven wheels and attained a speed of three miles an hour.

Some Great Musicians

Victor Herbert was taken to Germany at the age of seven and all of his musical education was obtained there. John Philip Sousa, born in Washington, began his musical education in that city at the age of six, under Espy and Benkert; he was a violin soloist at eleven and a teacher of harmony at fifteen.

The Law of Averages

The law of averages aims to demonstrate that, while the trend of human affairs cannot be forecast with certainty, it can be worked out to a considerable extent mathematically by arriving at averages based on statistics relating to the event.

Etching Glass

Many things are discovered by accident. In 1070 some aquafortis fell by accident on the spectacles owned by an artist named Schwabacher. The glass was corroded and this taught him how to make a liquid to etch figures upon glass.

Naming Mount Mitchell

Mount Mitchell, 18 miles east of Asheville, N. C., is named for Prof. Ellison Mitchell. In 1857, while determining the height of the mountain, he lost his life by a fall from a precipice. The body of the scientist is buried at the summit.

Food Market Advice

Turkeys Only Slightly Up

THE TURKEYS pouring into market for Thanksgiving dinners are, pleasantly enough, very little more expensive than last year. Order one today if you haven't already done so. People who do not want, or feel they cannot afford, a turkey will find that ROASTING CHICKENS, DUCKS, LINGS and GEES are moderately priced. Various meals, such as LEGS of LAMB and smoked or fresh HAMS, are also good holiday fare.

Fresh EGGS are reported somewhat cheaper and are sufficiently plentiful for all holiday needs. No change is anticipated in BUTTER or CHEESE prices.

Bag Oranges Again Available

ORANGES in bags, packed by weight, are again available and the price is low. COOKING APPLES, particularly Greenings, are cheap and box EATING APPLES too, are attractively priced. CRANBERRIES, though somewhat higher than a year ago, will not be prohibitive in cost. NAVEL ORANGES, PERSIMMONS, POMEGRANATES, GRAPES, BANANAS and PEARS are all available at moderate prices. For those who like a fruit or combined fruit and vegetable centerpiece, SQUASHES, EGGPLANT, red or green CABBAGE and red, yellow or white ONIONS help to give it color and varied shapes.

Either WHITE or SWEET POTATOES—or both—and YELLOW TUR-

NIPS and WHITE ONIONS are traditional Thanksgiving vegetables. BRUSSELS SPROUTS and BROCCOLI seem appropriate, and GREEN BEANS are growing in popularity for this occasion. All are plentiful and cheap or moderate in price. A salad is something of an innovation, but it should be a simple one of LETTUCE and other GREENS with French dressing. A heartier salad can be served at the late supper.

Oysters and Fish Unusually Plentiful
The recent mild weather has made possible unusually large catches of fish for this time of year, including both sea and lake varieties. OYSTERS are attractively priced as are CLAMS, SHRIMP and a great variety of seasonable fresh fish. Oyster cocktail, or oyster stuffing, and oyster stew have a place in the Thanksgiving dinner, lunch or supper.

Since last week's menu was the large and more or less traditional Thanksgiving dinner with turkey, here is a menu for Sunday with cold turkey:

Oyster Bisque (fresh or canned)
Cold Turkey Stuffing
Mashed Sweet Potatoes
Green Beans
Cranberry Sauce
Orange and Watercress Salad
Hot Biscuits and Butter
Mince Pie
Coffee

*This menu tested and tasted in the A&P Kitchen.

Sabbatical Year

A sabbatical year was originally the year in which all land was allowed to fallow by the ancient Jews. The term is now applied to a missionary's furlough, or a year of vacation from a profession, particularly teaching.

LOANS TO REPAIR AND MODERNIZE YOUR HOME

In cooperation with the Federal Housing Administration, we are prepared to receive applications for loans from property owners for alterations, repairs, modernization and improvements on their property. The following information will be helpful to you in making plans to obtain a loan under the provisions of the National Housing Act:—

WHO MAY APPLY?

Any property owner, individual, partnership, or corporation, with a regular salary or income, or seasonal income, (such as farmers.)

HOW MUCH MAY BE APPLIED FOR?

From $100 to $2,000, depending on income. Income must be at least five times the amount of annual payments.

WHAT IS THE COST?

The maximum charge is an amount equivalent to $5 discount per $100 of the original face of a one year note, payable in twelve monthly installments. There are no other charges.

WHAT SECURITY IS REQUIRED?

Home ownership, adequate income and a good credit standing. Mortgage, if any, must be in such standing as to justify the bank in making the loan.

WHAT SIGNATURES ARE REQUIRED?

"For those who live in houses, those who repair and construct houses, and those who invest in houses" FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT

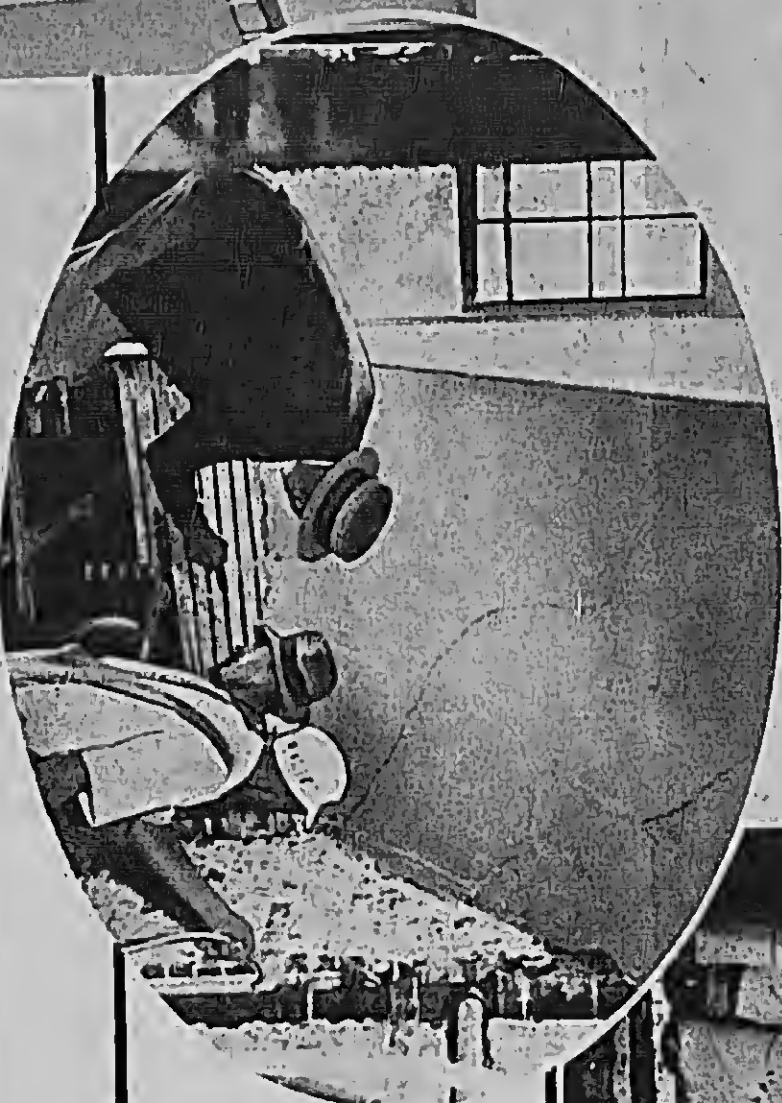

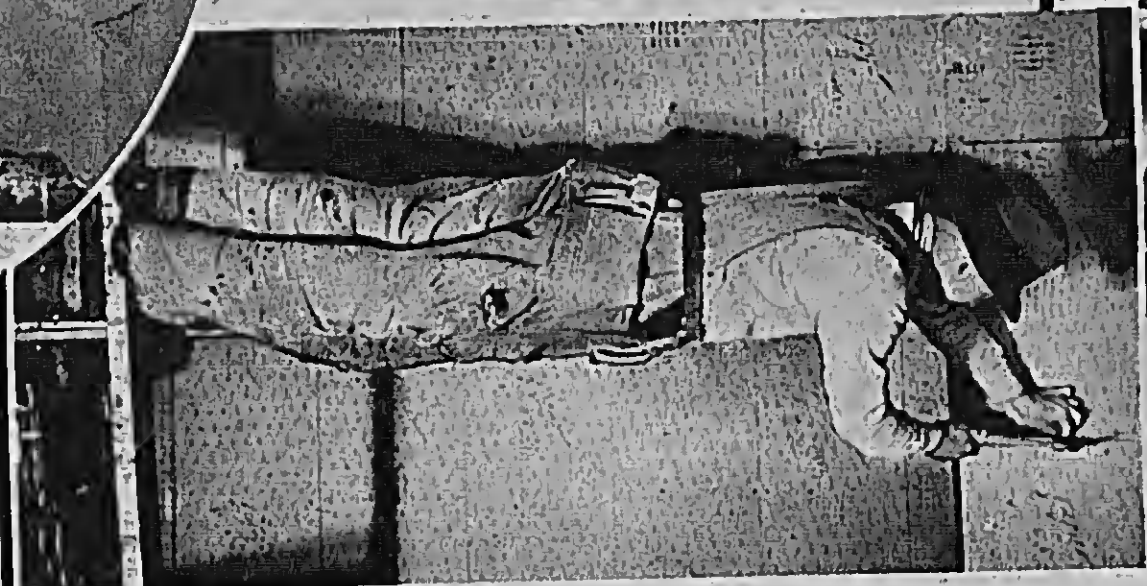

Making the home a better place to live in is decidedly a family matter, with the desires of each member to be consulted. The younger brother rings up the cost items.

The plumber is shown connecting the drain pipes of the house with the city sewerage system.

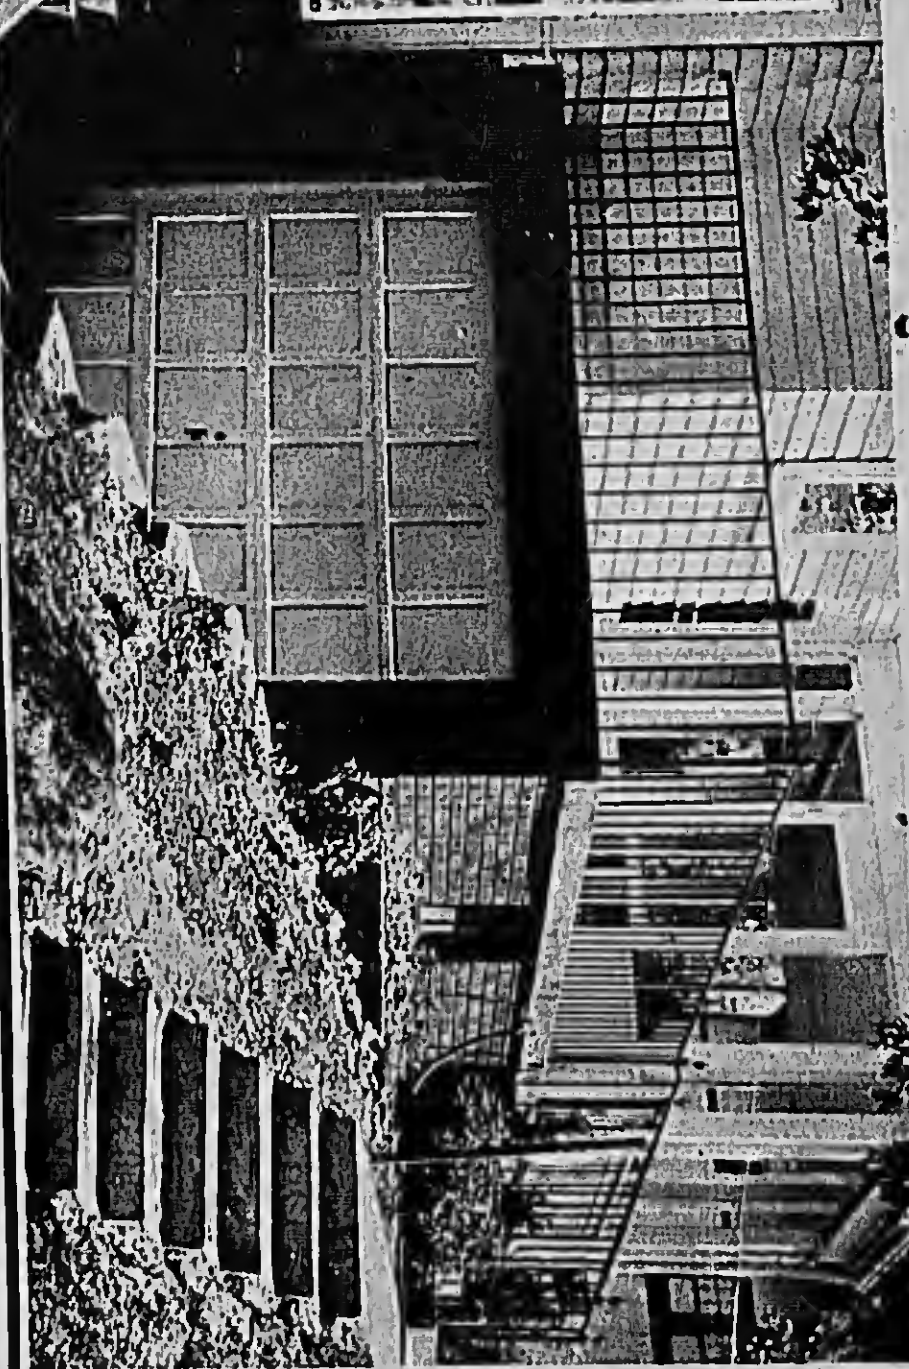

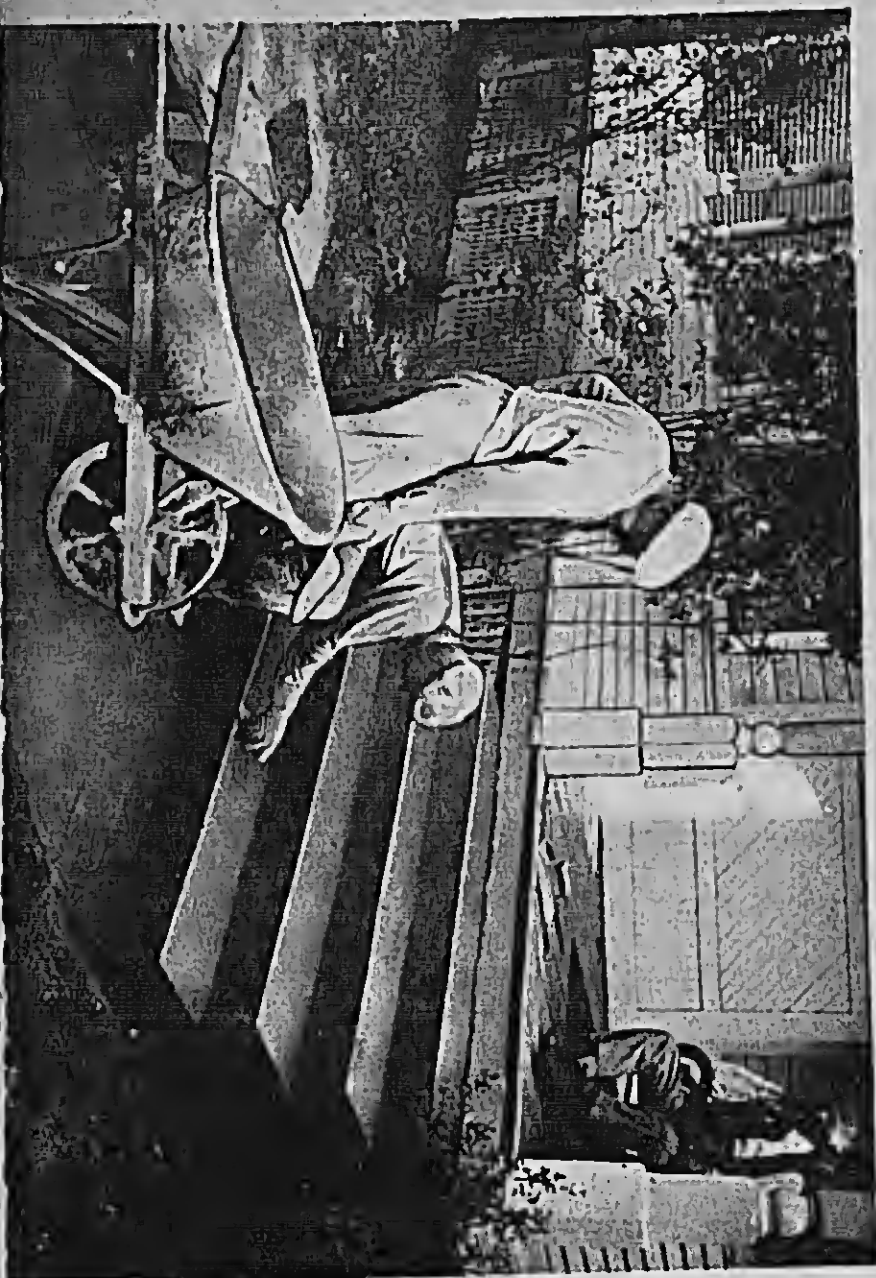

The workman in this picture is putting up a base for plaster which also helps to insulate the room and to deaden the sound.

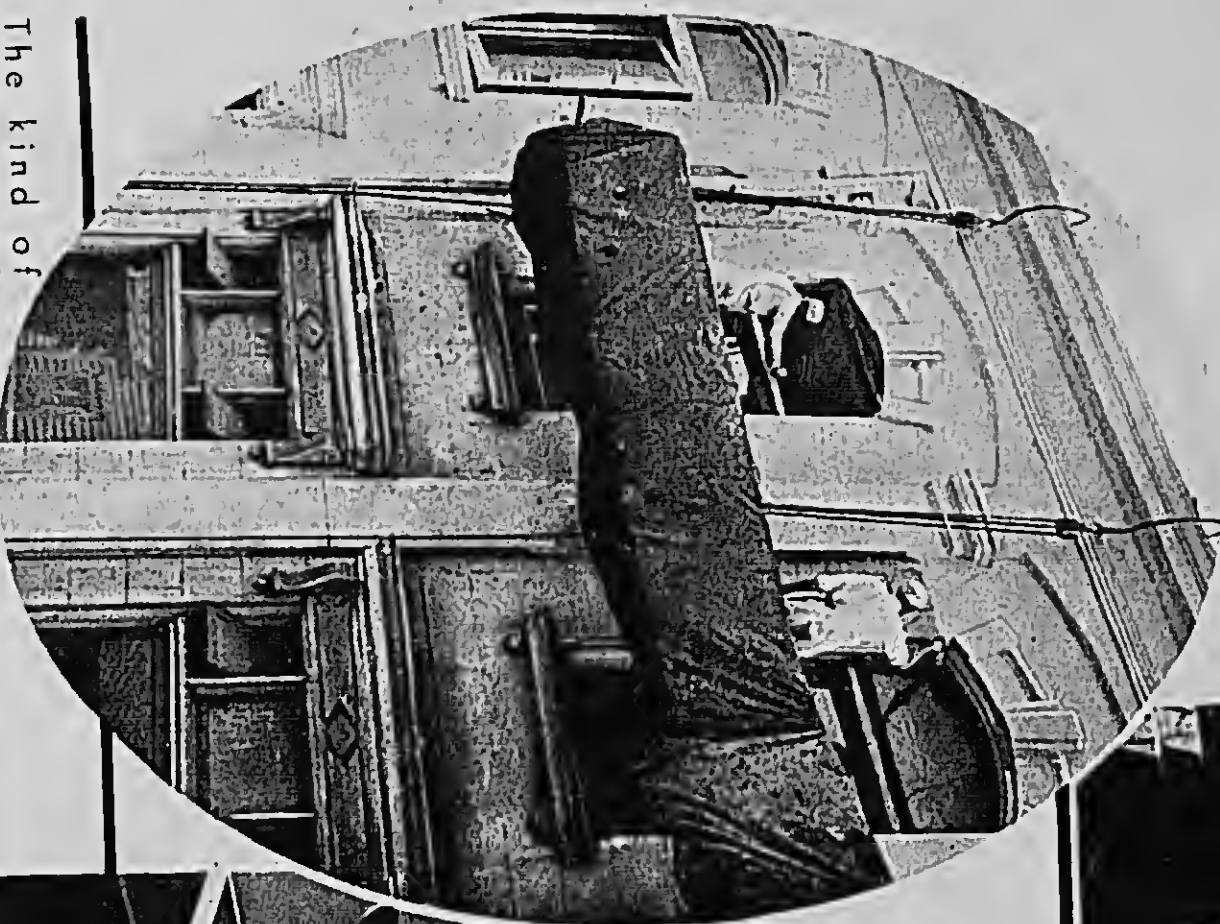

The home owner discusses a point with the man on the job before proceeding with his Better Housing Program.

In this living room corner the grille work near the floor and ceiling are part of the air-conditioning system. Note the modern appearance of the room.

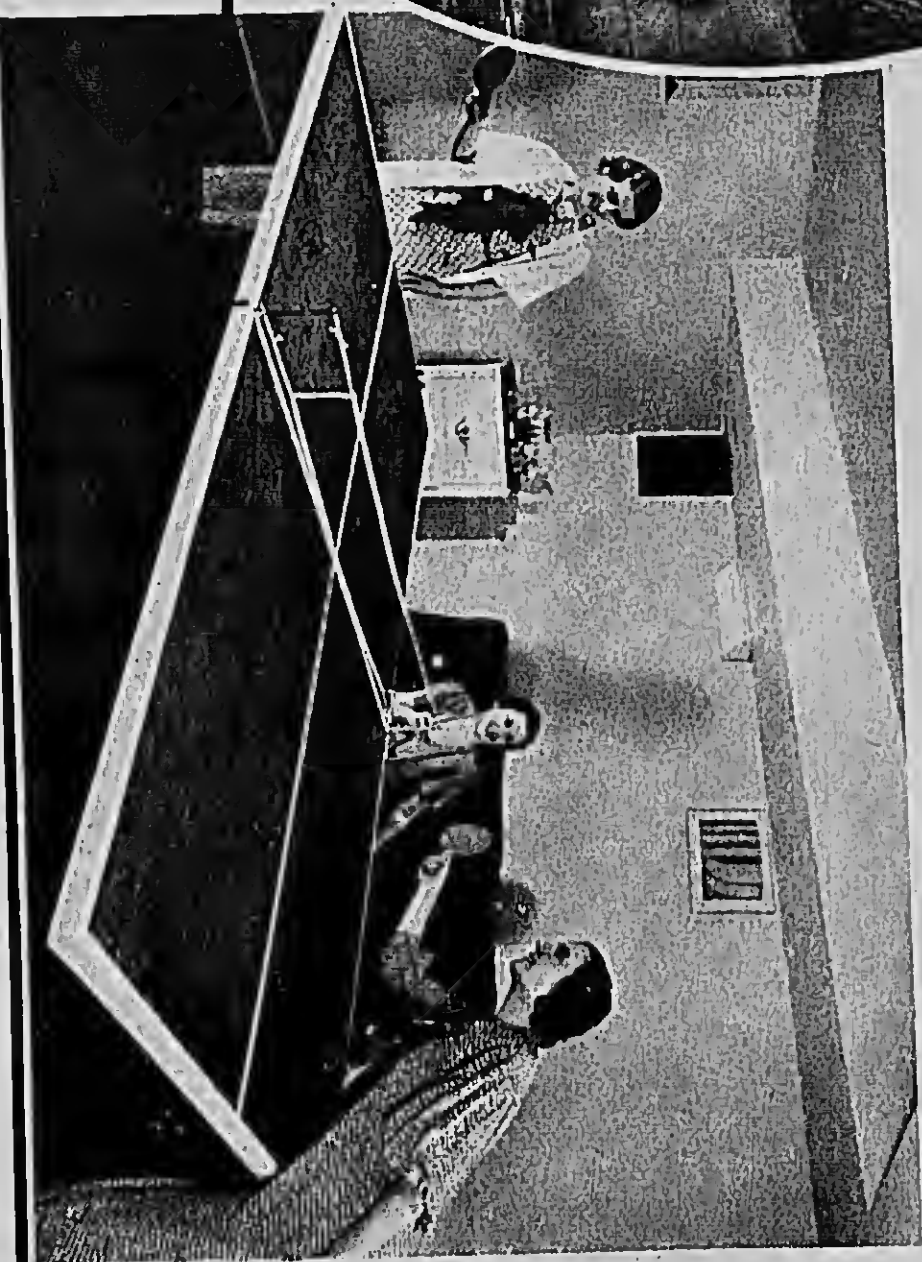

A new home for the car. The owner of this home has answered the problem of where to put the garage. He has a new porch which adds to the beauty of his house as well as providing a new home for the automobile and its accessories.

The kind of beauty treatment shown in this picture makes any business building look younger and more attractive.

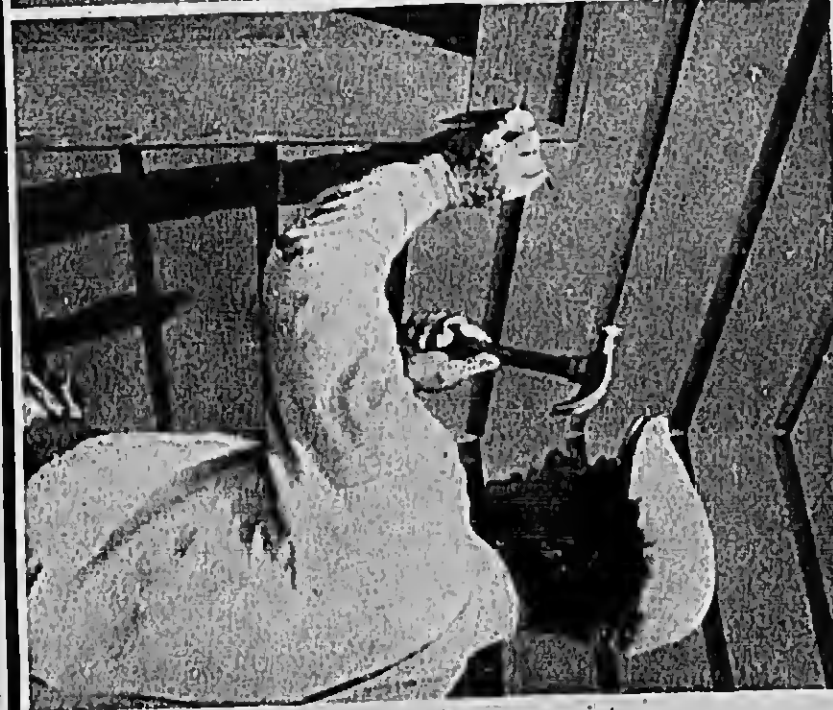

An attractive recreation room in the basement of the home. This room is large enough so that real games may be played in it. Note the lighting.

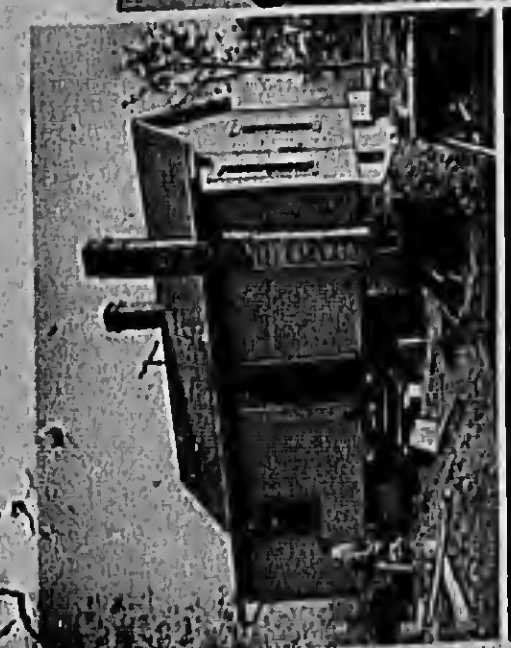

The workman shown here is pointing the brickwork on a combination porch-garage to insure weather-tight construction.

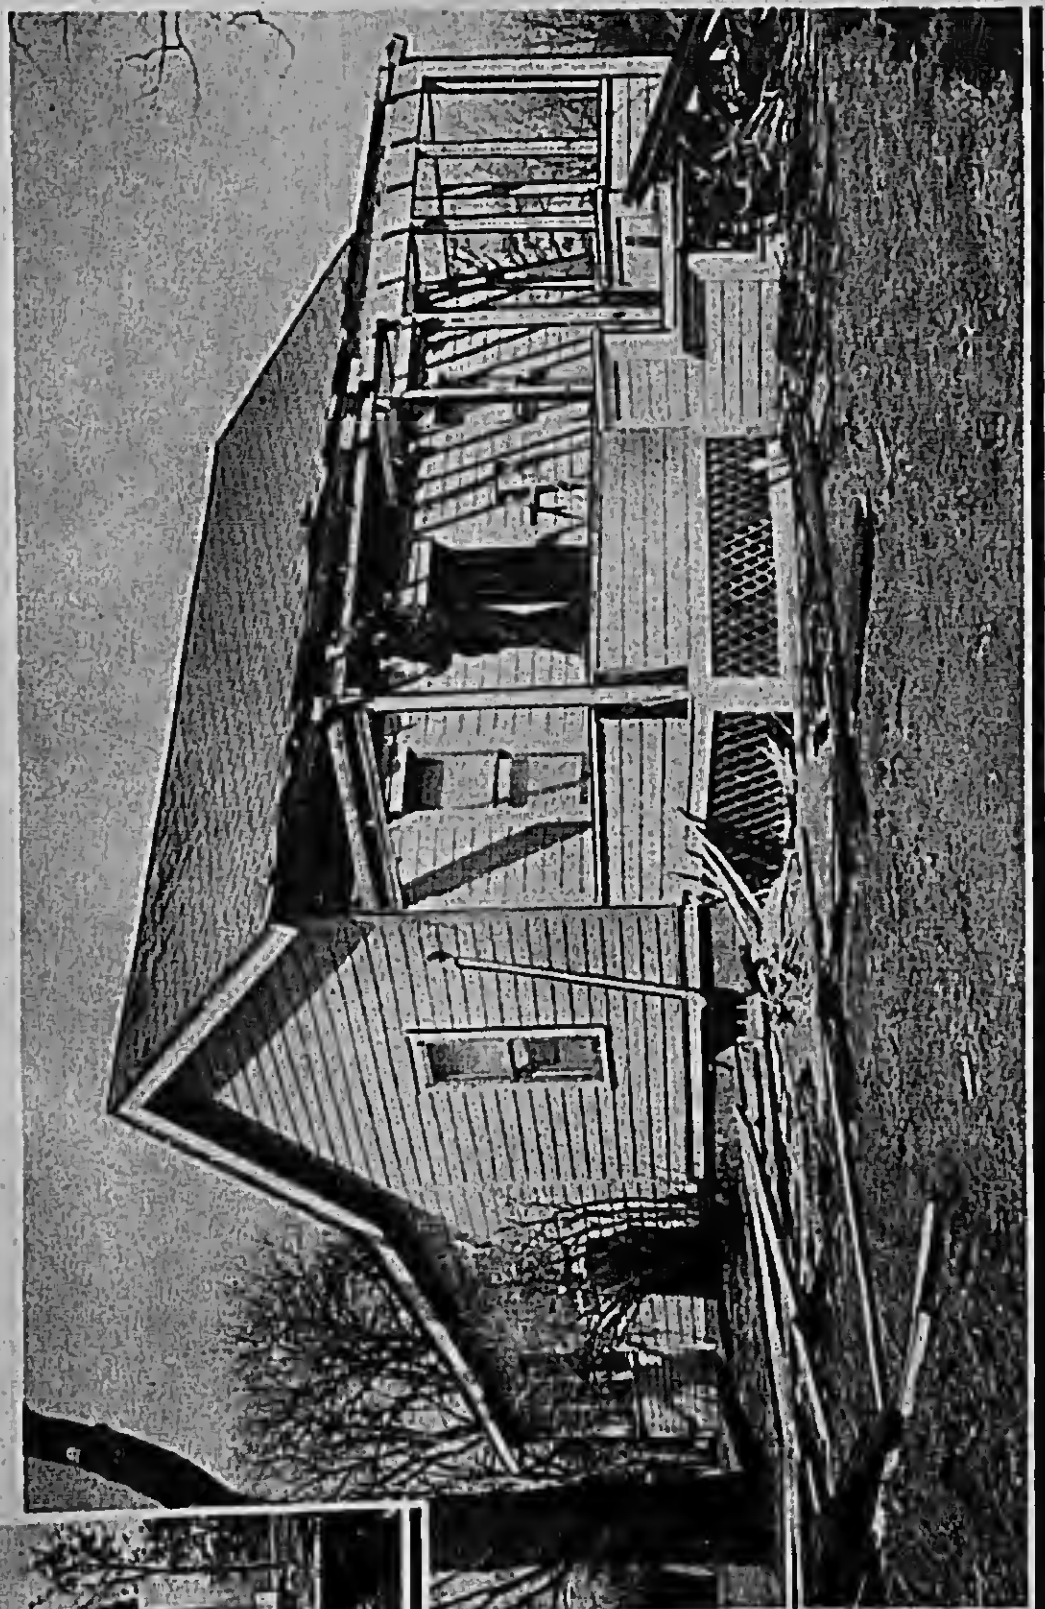

The plasterer is graphically portrayed going about his duties prior to plastering the rooms of a home being recast.

In nearly every individual Modernization Program, the carpenter has his place. This one seems cheerfully certain that he can't miss the nail.

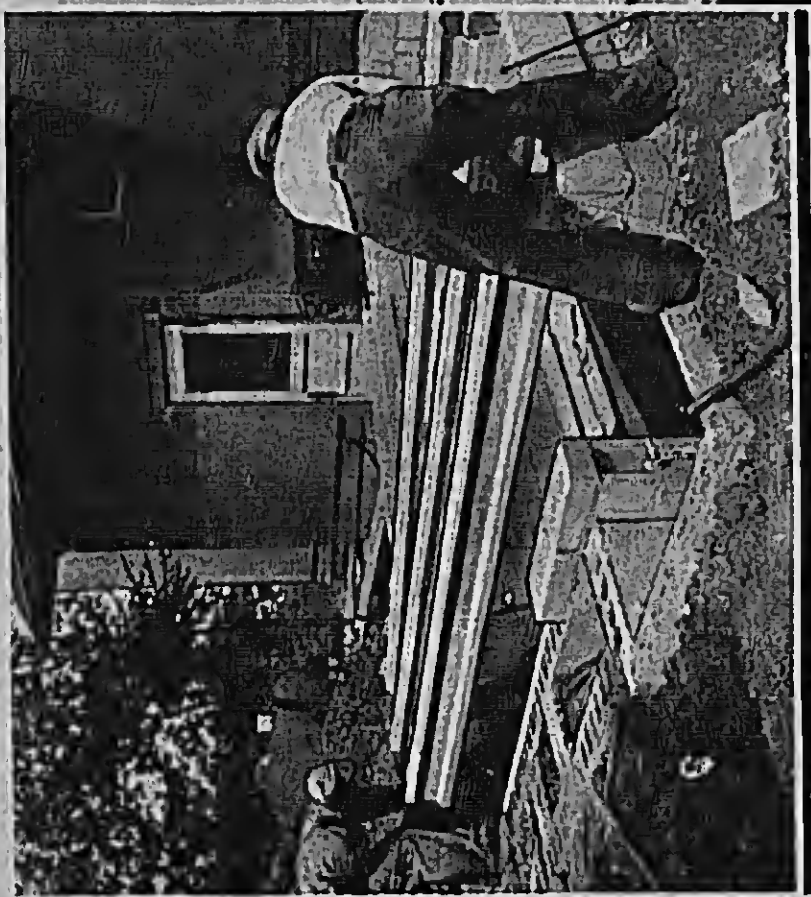

There are many modernization jobs which can be done, at a pinch, by one man. To the layman, however, it looks as though the man putting new foundations under his house can get along better than the porch builder in this photo.

Don't forget the roof. Laying new shingles over the old roof is now accepted by the building trades as sound and efficient procedure.

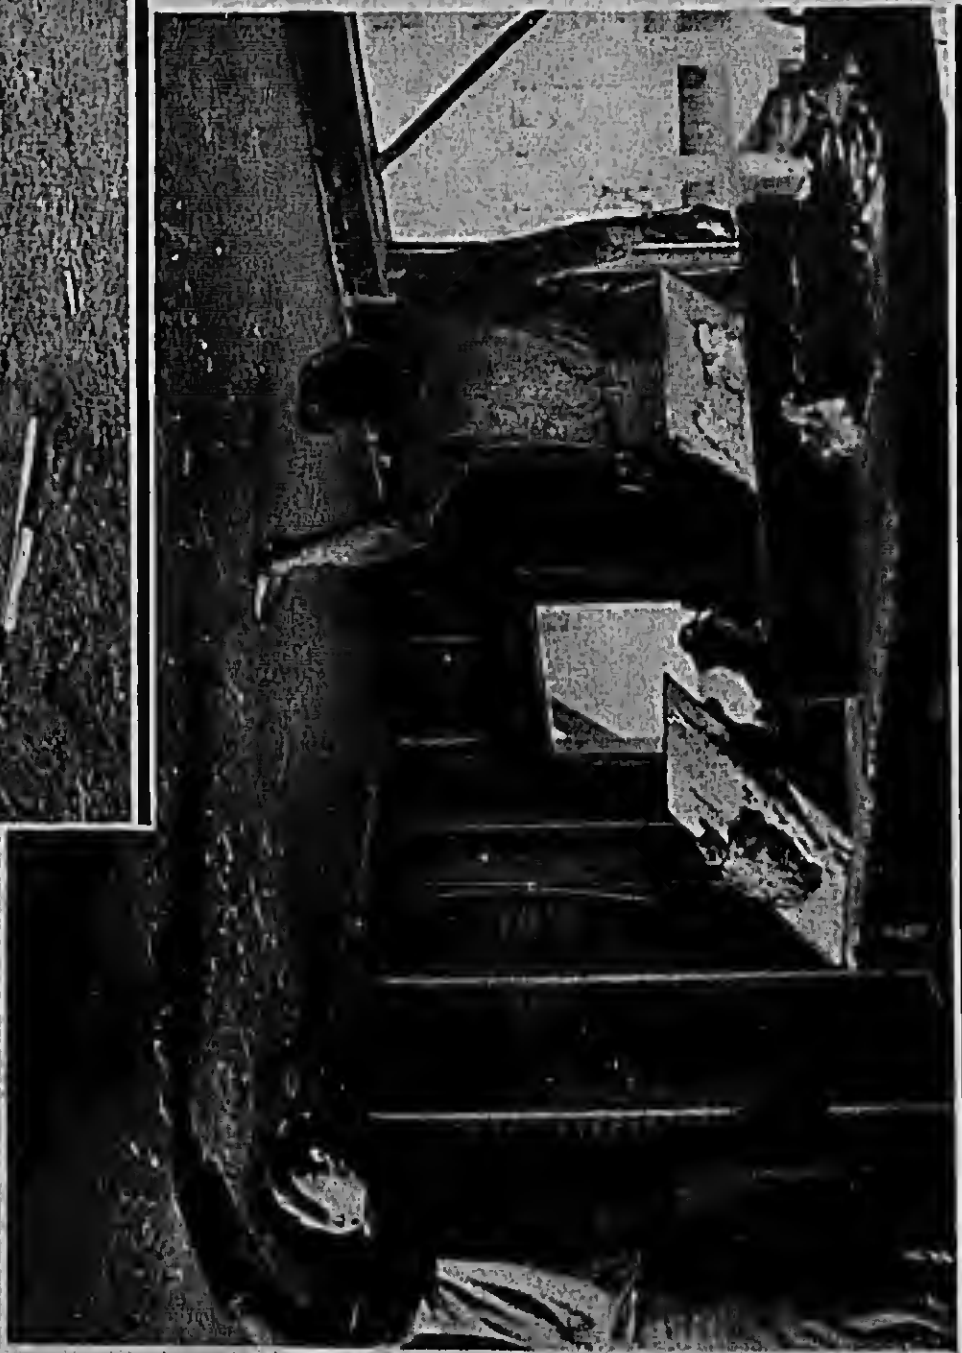

The finishing touch. Last but by no means least in importance, comes the painter to put the finishing touches to the Modernized Home.

The special fireproof joists laid by these men seem to be stout enough to support the new addition to this home for many years.

Many home owners are insulating against winter cold and summer heat by having insulating material blown in.

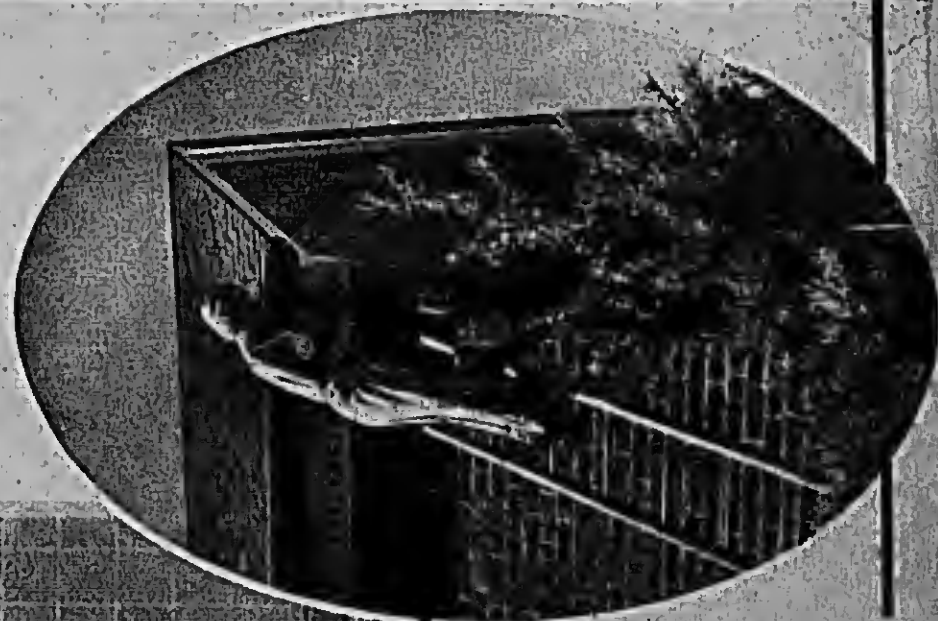

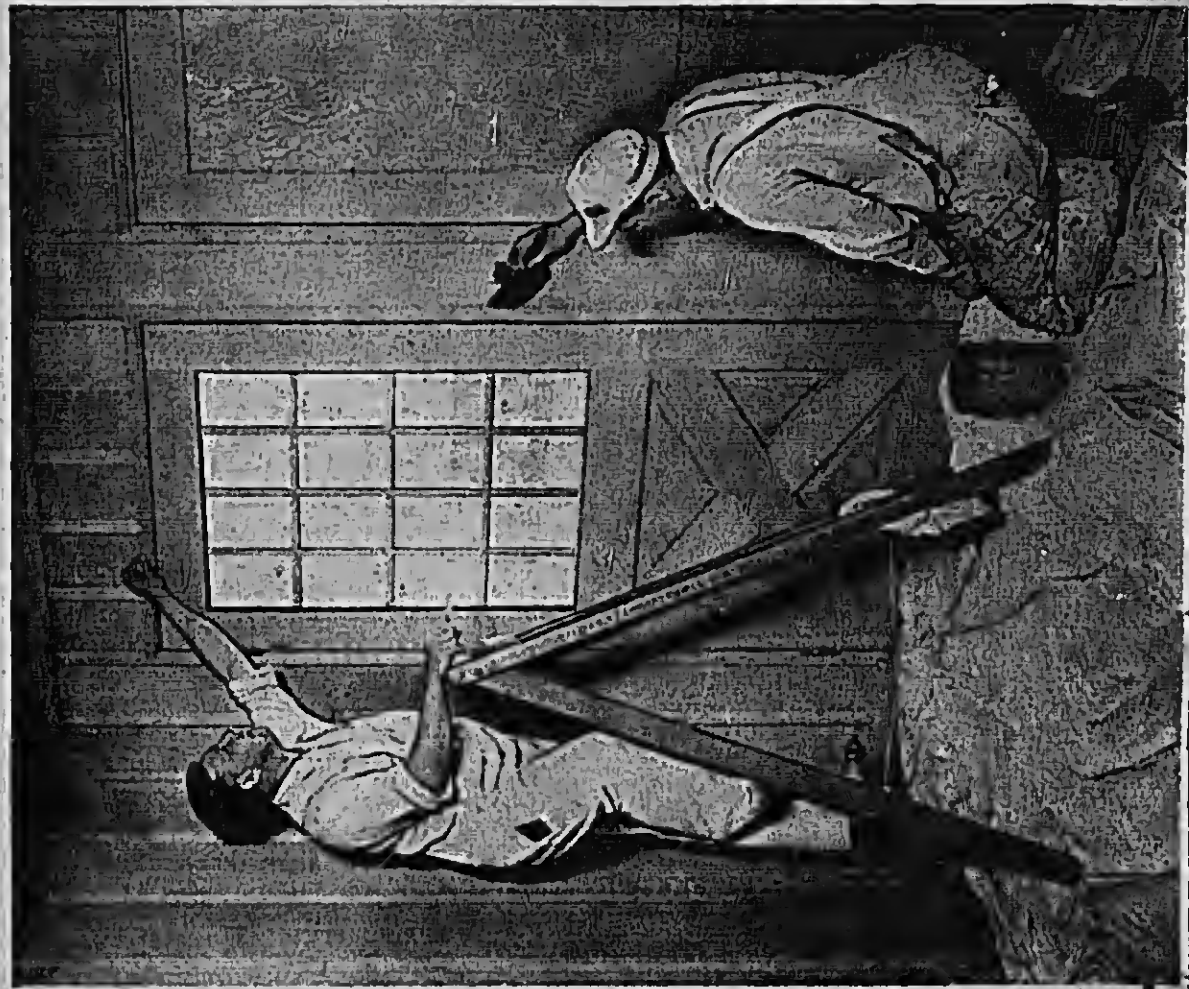

Plasterers are important folks in the Modernization Program. Occasionally they discard tools and use their hands.

First the putty, then the paint is the way these painters make this home bright.

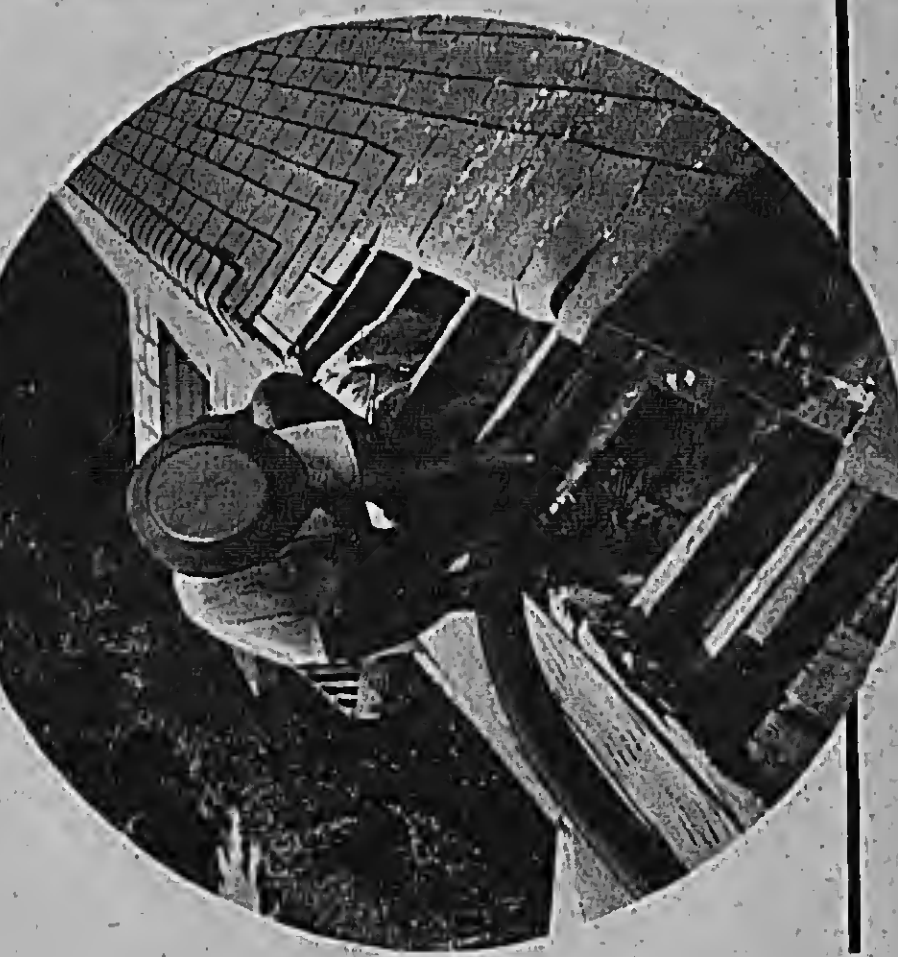

The tile setter puts the last tile in place in this practically new bathroom. Spray from the shower or splash from the tub cannot injure this wall.

Putting the finishing touches on the gutters and leaders of a remodeled home.

Insulation of your roof reduces your fuel bill during the cold winter months and keeps the home cooler.

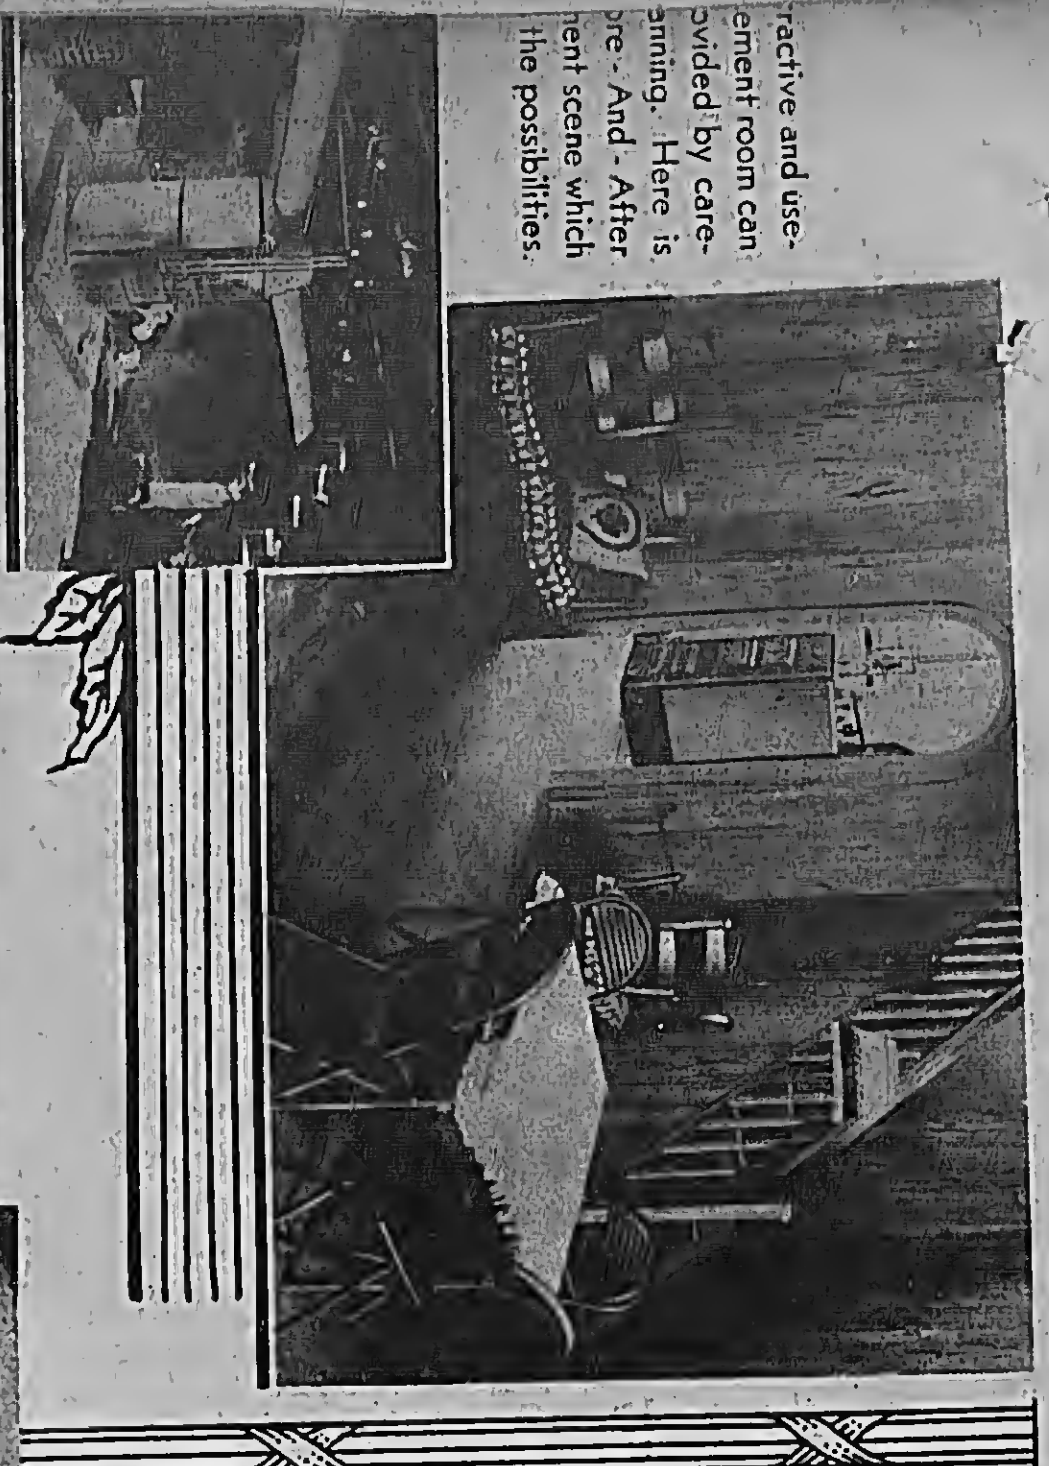

Not all of the Modernization Programs are concerned with beautification of the home. The owner of this farm realizes the importance of a firm foundation for his barn.

When speed is wanted a gang of men as shown here can make short work of modernizing an approach to any part of your home.

A MESSAGE FROM THE ADMINISTRATOR

Sixteen million homes throughout the country are in urgent need of repair. Your town contributes its proportion to this total. In large measure, this condition is due to the lack of money for building during the last several years.

Congress, in passing the National Housing Act, makes it possible for the Government, by insuring the credit of responsible property owners, for banks and other financial institutions, safely to lend the necessary money for these urgently-needed repairs.

If your property is one of those that need repairs or modernization and you have the cash available for the purpose, we suggest that now is the time for you to have the work done. With material prices at a level under those of 1926, with a great abundance of skilled labor unemployed but ready and anxious to go to work, and with extremely low-cost credit available for the purpose, every consideration of prudence suggests that you have the work done now. Further delay usually means an accelerating rate of depreciation, and an ultimate cost much higher than is now necessary.

A great national movement is under way to put our homes and business properties back into a healthy state of repair. The Federal Housing Administration pledges its fullest cooperation in this great movement to make every home a better place to live in and every business property a better place to work in.

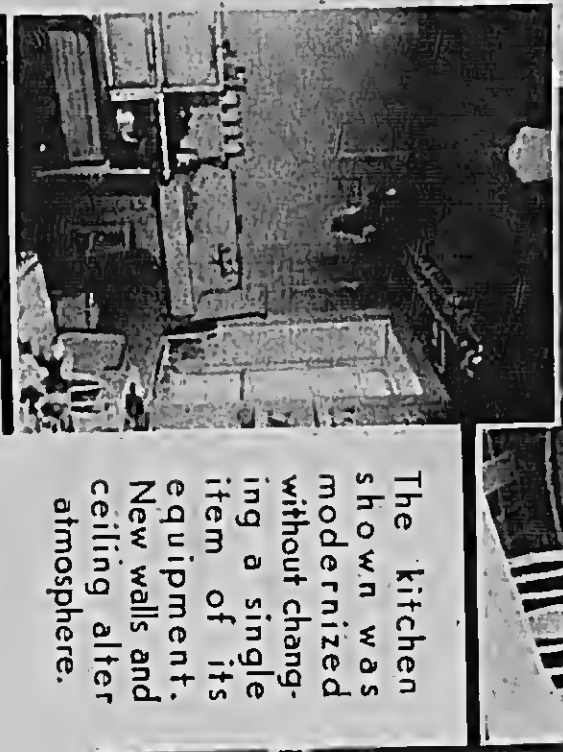

JAMES A. MOFFETT, Administrator

The fireplace and mantel, once the center of the home, is still a big factor in both comfort and beauty. Almost any fireplace can be made charming, as shown here, at no great cost.

The kitchen shown was modernized without changing a single item of its equipment. New walls and ceiling alter atmosphere.

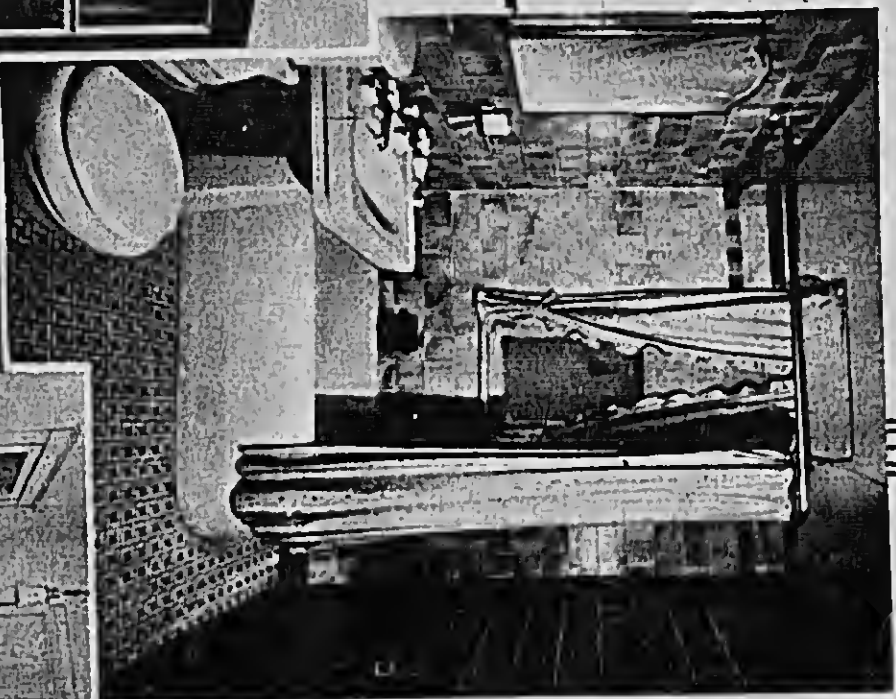

The strictly utilitarian shop pictured here discovered that the modernized place attracted more trade than the old one did. Better business goes along with greater beauty.

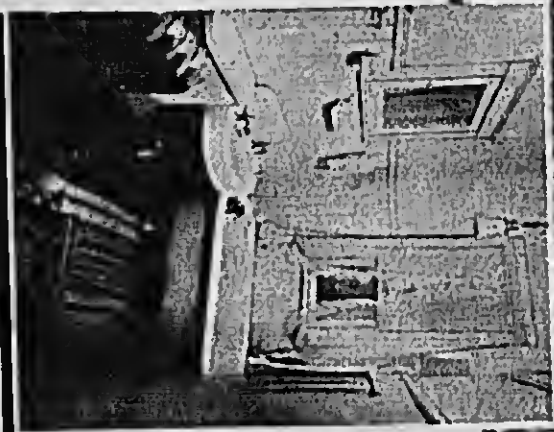

Real modernization is the best way to rent business properties quickly and at a profit. These two pictures show why.

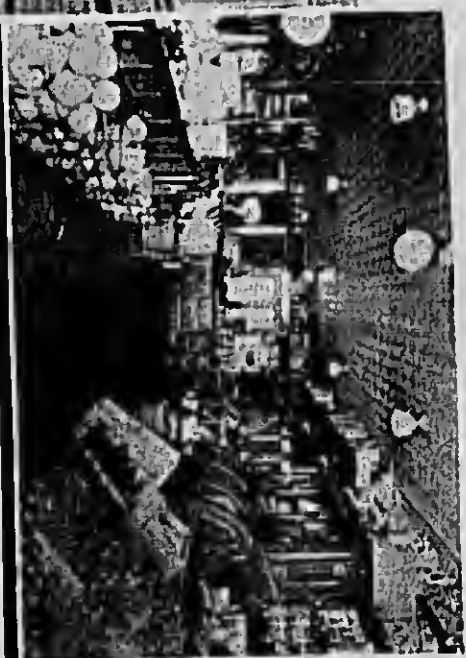

Believe it or not the two views shown here are the same corner of the same room. The utterly ugly basement room is converted into a cosy library.

Tile walls and floors can make the old bathroom a thing of beauty and modern fixtures are not expensive.

The contrasting pictures shown here are a vivid illustration of what can be done to make living in the home more pleasant, as well as more healthful. The exterior of the house has been pointed up and a bit of ugliness transformed.

It did not take the owner of this grocery store long to discover the actual sales value of the attractive vegetable display bins and the clean spaciousness of the modernized story in contrast to the crowded disorderliness of the old store room.
